West Anti-Bomb Group Thwarted In Moscow

READY TO TAKE OFF — Mr. and Mrs. Domenico Cordoni of San Anselmo pack their bags in preparation for a flight tomorrow along with 10 relatives to their home town of Lucca, Italy, where they will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary. It will be their third trip back to Italy by air. (Independent-Journal photo)

Queen Named As Climax Of Fair Opening

Record Crowd Totals 6,084 For First Day

(See Photos, Page 8)

A brown-haired, brown-eyed high school senior, Pamela Crow of Sonoma, was crowned Miss Sonoma County last night as the climax to opening day of the Sonoma-Marin District Fair at Petaluma.

Seventeen-year-old Pamela finished ahead of Janet Murch, 18, and Linda Colin, 16, both of Petaluma, who placed second and third respectively. A panel of four judges ranked the winners on the basis of beauty, poise and personality.

UNTIL SUNDAY

Queen Pamela was on hand for the opening of today's fair activities and will reign through the remainder of the event, which will close Sunday evening.

The fair yesterday drew 6,084 persons, a record opening day crowd as compared to last year's initial attendance of 5,757, fair officials said.

The coronation ceremonies were linked with the stage presentation of the Ink Spots, who packed the new 2,000-seat grandstand with a crowd that overflowed on the perimeter of the rodeo arena.

MARIN'S DAY

Tomorrow is Marin County Day at the fair, and Marinites will be participating in two main attractions. A large number of girls from Marin County 4-H clubs will show original fashion creations in a "young homemakers" revue in the afternoon.

Marin horsemen will ride in the junior horse show at 1 p.m. Events include horsemanship for children 12 and under, pleasure class, two-man relay, pole-bending, barrel race and pig and calf scramble for all 17 and under, and a milking contest for girls 18 and under.

MAIL FRAUD

Estes Is Shocked, Pleads Innocent

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI) — Three co-defendants with Billie Sol Estes in a 29-count federal indictment pleaded guilty today to five counts of the indictment. Estes, pleading innocent to all 29 counts, looked shocked.

The men who pleaded guilty are Coleman McSpadden of Lubbock, Tex., and Ruel W. Alexander and Harold E. Orr, both of Amarillo, Tex. They pleaded guilty for Superior Manufacturing Co., as well as themselves.

McSpadden, Alexander and Orr are officials of Superior Manufacturing, which made fertilizer tanks which Estes sold to hundreds of farmers on chattel mortgages. The government charges that the mortgages were fraudulent.

The three men pleaded guilty to two counts of mail fraud, two counts of interstate transportation of fraudulent documents and one count of conspiracy. U.S. District Judge R. E. Thomason could sentence them to maximum prison terms of 45 years each.

The entire 29-count indictment contained 16 counts of mail fraud, 12 counts of interstate transportation of fraudulent documents and one of conspiracy.

The three and Estes had pleaded innocent to an eight-count federal indictment, charging interstate transportation of fraudulent documents, that was returned March 29.

That indictment eventually will be dismissed, because the 29-count indictment contains the same charges.

Judge Thomason continued Estes' $100,000 bond and the $25,000 bond each of the other three men.

Soviet Women Yank Their Banners Away

MOSCOW (UPI) — A handful of Western ban-the-bomb advocates staged a "silent vigil" protest against big power nuclear policies in Red Square today, but had their banners yanked away from them by several Soviet women who opposed their demonstration.

The disarmament demonstrators called off plans to picket the American Embassy in the face of Soviet opposition. Instead, they marched into Red Square with three banners unfurled to protest nuclear tests by both East and West. Originally, 40 planned to demonstrate but only 20 showed up.

The clash in Red Square came as the Soviet Union served official notice that it feels free to conduct another series of nuclear tests.

The demonstrators were followed by a group of Soviet women who took the banners away, rolled them up and stalked off.

"They are undecorous," muttered one Soviet woman as she walked away.

THEY WATCHED

The demonstrators, here for the Communist-sponsored World Congress for General Disarmament and Peace, silently watched the loss of their banners which bore such slogans as "We demand no more Russian tests" and "We condemn Anglo-American tests."

They were only unfurled for a few seconds before they were taken away.

The demonstration had been called despite Soviet warnings that it would be illegal and that demonstrators could be deported. But many who had originally planned to go to Red Square to participate dropped out as the extent of Soviet opposition become apparent.

'WE ARE MANY'

One woman who helped take away the banners identified herself as "part of the Russian people."

"And we are many," she added.

Another Soviet man pointed to some of the demonstrators and said, "Who wants to look at those provocative banners?"

When correspondents crowded around him he snapped: "If you crowd around us and take notes about everything we will soon outnumber you."

Another Soviet citizen at first called a banner criticizing Soviet tests "incorrect." When it was pointed out that another banner protested Western tests he remained silent.

HELD ANYWAY

The demonstrators began their "silent vigil" near the red and black marble Tomb of Lenin in the center of Red Square.

Then they moved to one end of the square near the bell tower of the Kremlin.

One of the demonstrators, Philip Seed of York, England, said the demonstration was being held despite "categoric refusal" of permission by Soviet authorities.

Seed said writer Alexander Korneichuk, speaking on behalf of Soviet authorities, warned it is illegal for foreigners to demonstrate here and that those taking part in mass demonstrations were liable to deportation.

Maneuvers To Be Held During Test

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The first troop maneuvers held in connection with a nuclear weapons test since 1957 are planned within a few days at the Nevada test site.

The Atomic Energy Commission said today 900 soldiers, conducting exercises with equipment including artillery, will participate in a project called Ivy Flats.

Highlight will be the detonation of a low-yield nuclear device in the atmosphere.

Distance of the troops from the blast, whether they will be entrenched, location of the blast and details on maneuvers were not disclosed.

Troops are from the 4th Infantry Division, Fort Lewis, Wash.

In July, 1957, Marines were entrenched only 5,700 yards from ground zero of a 74.3 kiloton burst from a device suspended from a balloon 1,500 feet high. It was the mightiest detonation ever touched off in the United States until a 100-kiloton shot last week. A kiloton is equal to 1,000 tons of TNT.

The AEC said the artillery involved will be conventional type, with the largest weapons being 105mm.

The AEC today set off a low yield nuclear underground explosion at its Nevada test site. It was the 44th announced test in the current series there.

BISHOP PIKE RAPS DECISION ON PRAYER

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Bishop James A. Pike, often a defender of the U.S. Supreme Court against its critics in the past, today attacked the high tribunal for its recent decision in the New York school prayer case.

"The Supreme Court has just deconsecrated the nation," he told the Commonwealth Club.

Pike, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of California, supported proposals to change the Constitution to wording "recognizing the religious dimension of our common heritage and at the same time imposing no sort of conformity upon anyone, whether of atheist persuasion or otherwise."

The bishop revealed that yesterday he had forwarded a proposal to Congress via the state's congressmen to reword the First Amendment.

Where it now reads "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion . . .," Bishop Pike would have it read "Congress shall make no law respecting the establishment of any denomination, sect or other organized religious association."

Discussing the word "religion" in the first amendment, he said it "means either an organized denomination or it means a general religious perspective or world-view. If it means the former, then obviously the New York school prayer did not establish a religion. If it means the latter, then the court itself has established a religion, namely, that of secularism."

New Cabinet Is Formed By Macmillan

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan Friday night announced a sweeping reconstruction of his Cabinet, in which seven ministers—including Chancellor of the Exchequer Selwyn Lloyd—quit their government posts.

Lloyd, a former foreign secretary, had faced fierce criticisms for his fiscal policies as chancellor.

Reginald Maulding, colonial secretary, was given Lloyd's job — running the nation's treasury.

The Cabinet reshuffle had been widely expected in the wake of a series of setbacks to Macmillan's ruling Conservative party in by-elections. The scope of the change, however, went far beyond expectations.

Another key minister out of the Cabinet is Defense Minister Harold Watkinson. He was replaced by Aviation Minister Thorneycroft.

MARRIED 50 YEARS

Hub Pair To Fete Anniversary In Italy

The town of Lucca, Italy, is due for a celebration next Thursday, when Mr. and Mrs. Domenico Cordoni of 60 Hawthorne Avenue, San Anselmo, observe their golden wedding.

The Cordonis, both 75, will take off for Italy tomorrow from San Francisco's International Airport on Trans World airlines. It will be their third flight to visit their home town, which is near Florence.

They'll take the family along.

Going with the couple will be son John, his wife and daughter; daughter Mrs. Ann Frolli, her husband and their two daughters, and daughter Mrs. Alice Caligari and her husband, plus Cordoni's sister. All are residents of San Francisco.

The Cordoni children and their families will visit France during the trip.

About 100 relatives from Lucca and the surrounding territory will gather for the senior Cordonis' golden wedding.

Cordoni came to San Francisco in 1912, just a few months ahead of Mrs. Cordoni. They resided in San Francisco until Cordoni retired 10 years ago, when they moved to San Anselmo. He was in the milk business and operated a bowling alley with his son, to whom he turned over the business on retiring.

Voice Fades On Telephone, Doctor Dies

A Terra Linda doctor, just promoted to chief anesthetist at Children's Hospital in San Francisco, died last night at his home from an overdose of pain killer while talking over the telephone to a woman doctor who also works at the hospital.

He was Dr. Phillip Carl Canney, 38, of 250 Orange Blossom Lane.

Deputy Coroner William C. Bradley said the doctor had apparently injected himself with demerol, a pain killer, and sodium penathol (truth serum), then called Dr. Linda Sunseri at the hospital about 7:45 p.m.

She said Dr. Canney's voice faded as he talked, and the phone was never replaced on the receiver. She notified Dr. Bruce C. Holman of 3 Rosebank Avenue, Kentfield, who is also on the Children's Hospital staff. Dr. Holman found the victim lying dead on his bed with the phone still grasped in his left hand.

Dr. Canney leaves his wife,

Gate Bridge Gets Budget: $2,050,141

Golden Gate Bridge directors today approved a $2,050,141 budget for fiscal 1963, virtually the same as that for the year which ended June 30.

Approved was a 5 per cent pay increase for all employees earning less than $10,000 per year and not covered by union agreements. No pay increase was granted to general manager James Adam; his administrative assistant, the district auditor, or its attorney.

Only discussion of the budget today was by Marin director Leland S. Murphy. He opposed an $8,500 item for the San Francisco Convention Bureau and Californians, Inc., in the advertising portion of the budget. He said he had seen nothing contributed by these organizations that would benefit the bridge. He was outvoted 10 to 1.

Directors unanimously approved a resolution urging legislation to put the Sausalito lateral into the state highway system.

A suggestion, however, by

Deputy Algeria Aide Asks One-Party Rule

ORAN, Algeria (AP) — Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella, flushed by the triumph of his return, has demanded single party rule for Algeria, backed by the army which regards him as a hero from the war for independence from France.

In his first major address since his return, Ben Bella told a cheering throng yesterday:

"We must have a single, disciplined party to achieve the aims of our revolution, not several parties. We will not permit a return to the sterile game of the old party system."

Ben Bella made it clear he wants a one-party system based on the National Council of the Algerian revolution which includes many officers opposed to moderate Premier Ben Youssef ben Khedda.

His aides hinted that talks in Rabat between rival Algerian factions failed to produce agreement and that Ben Bella is in no hurry to proceed to Algeriers for talks with Ben Khedda and other members of the provisional government.

Instead of going on to Algiers he returned to Tlemcen, 40 miles east of the Moroccan border, last night. Aides said his further plans were uncertain.

Ben Khedda favors close links with France. Ben Bella has insisted on Arab nationalism as a revolutionary theme.

France, Britain Bitter Over Telstar

NEW YORK (AP)—The British jumped the gun and put through the first trans-Atlantic telephone call via Telstar last night.

The space communications satellite thus generated an out-of-this-world rivalry between the English and French.

France made an unscheduled start on transatlantic telecasting Wednesday night. The British called it a "clear breach of faith" and, in apparent retaliation, beat the French to the draw on international phone calls via space.

The call between scientists in Britain and the United States lasted about 10 minutes and concerned mainly techincal matters.

A spokesman for the British Post Office, which controls broadcasting in England much as the Federal Communications Commission does here, termed the experiment a success.

The French denied they broke an agreement which called for the first European television program to be received in the U.S. July 23. Citing a technicality, the French said the agreement provided that the joint European telecast would be "live," while theirs was pre-recorded.

The French program included songs by actor Yves Montand and other entertainers. It was seen in American homes, as was a "live" British telecast bounced off the satellite a few hours later.

The European Broadcasting Union, in a communique issued in Geneva, said the French telecast violated the international agreement "that no TV material of entertainment or informative character be transmitted in advance of the joint Eurovision project."

The British Broadcasting Corp. also complained the French jumped the gun.

Peter Dimmock, BBC representative on a European committee to coordinate the new transatlantic television link, said "it was a very great pity that a major triumph of this kind should be clouded by such a clear breach of faith."

The first formal transatlantic telephone call via Telstar had been scheduled for tonight between the United States and France.

Instead, the British completed the first such call last night. It was placed by scientists at the Goonhilly Downs tracking station in Cornwall to fellow engineers at American Telephone and Telegraph Co.'s ground station at Andover, Maine.

Rusk Says It May Be Weeks Before Nuclear Test Results

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. disarmament experts said today they may know in several weeks whether recent scientific data will make possible new Western test ban proposals.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said yesterday that nuclear tests in Nevada produced "promising signs" that the problem of guarding against cheating on a test ban treaty may be somewhat easier than experts had thought.

RED OBJECTION

But Rusk said "complete and thorough examination" of the results is still needed before any new test ban proposals can be drawn up.

One of the main stumbling blocks of U.S.-British-Soviet test ban negotiations at Geneva since 1958 has been Russia's objection to inspection.

The Western powers demanded international monitoring posts and inspection teams to tour the Soviet Union, checking on at least a limited number of earth tremors to determine whether they were earthquakes or secret tests.

CALLED SPYING

Soviet negotiators claimed this would amount to espionage.

The data to which Rusk referred came mainly from the "project vela" tests in Nevada, designed to perfect methods for test detection.

The Russians, invited to participate, declined.

The Pentagon announced Sunday that the vela series showed existing instruments are more capable of detecting underground tests than originally believed.

Rusk said the data does not suggest that on-site inspection or control posts could be entirely eliminated.

But the information may "greatly simplify" the problem by allowing a reduction in their number.

Rusk noted that even if this proves true, there still will be "a very large problem" if Russia continues objecting to any inspection at all on her territory.

President Postpones Brazil Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy has postponed until mid-November his planned visit to Brazil.

The official reason: The approaching windup of the congressional session, plus the fact that election campaigns are coming up in both the United States and Brazil.

But experts on Latin America read into yesterday's announcement concern that a presidential visit during the current Brazilian political crisis could be labeled Yankee intervention.

Observers of the Latin American scene said Kennedy could not go to Brazil during the political crisis without creating the impression that he was backing one side or the other.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Christmas Isle Tests End

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has wound up its nuclear test series of 26 announced blasts in the Christmas Island area of the Pacific. But there may be more high-altitude shots at the Johnston Island test site.

The Atomic Energy Commission announced yesterday it was lifting the ban on Americans entering the Christmas Island test area, effective today. The area has been off limits since April 4.

The AEC said the Johnston Island test area set up April 9 remains in effect.

Variety Guild Suspends Exec

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Guild of Variety Artists has suspended Jackie Bright without pay from his $31,200-a-year job as executive secretary until he clears himself of "all allegations and accusations" stemming from the Senate B-girl investigation.

The suspension was announced yesterday.

At Senate Investigation subcommittee hearings in Washington last month, Bright was accused of accepting bribes and illegal payoffs from various sources in the entertainment field.

Life Begins At 65

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The adage that life begins at 40 still may be true, but the government has found it begins again at 65 for many of the nation's senior citizens.

The Health, Education and Welfare Department's new special staff on aging reported today that a survey showed there were 35,000 marriages each year among the nation's elderly.

It said one or both marriage partners is aged 65 or older in these weddings and many go to the altar for the second or even the third time.

Men With Rifles

WASHINGTON (AP)—The age of nuclear warfare has made "the man with the rifle" more than ever indispensable to the nation's defense, in the view of President John F. Kennedy.

At the close of a smart ceremonial parade by Marine Corps troopers in the quadrangle of the 161-year-old Marine Corps barracks here last night, Kennedy delivered an unscheduled speech in tribute to the men who stormed the beaches and stalked the jungles.

Kennedy sat in rapt attention through the hour-long review, then told the troops and dignitaries of the government and congress who watched with him:

"All of us, I am sure, 10 years ago thought that the need for the man with the rifle would be passing away from the scene in the 1960s . . . But the very size and magnitude of the new, great weapons have placed a new emphasis upon what we call rather strangely conventional arms."

Construction Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The bill placing a $270-million-dollar state construction bond issue on the November ballot has been signed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Most of the funds would go for buildings for the university and state and junior colleges, but it would also provide for construction for mental hospitals, prisons and firefighting facilities.

2 Die In Bus Crash

BELLEVILLE, Ind. (UPI)—Two persons were killed and nearly 40 were injured early today when a Greyhound scenicruiser en route from St. Louis to New York was ripped open and spilled its human cargo over the country-side after colliding with a big semi-trailer.

Many of the passengers were asleep when the crash occurred on heavily-traveled U.S. 40 near here.

U. S. newspapers use more than seven million tons of newsprint annually.

Bell's Replacement

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Mayor Oran Gragson of Las Vegas says he will run for governor replacing Republican nominee, Lt. Gov. Rex Bell who died July 4.

Gragson's candidacy was announced yesterday after GOP leaders had met for two days over selection of Bell's replacement.

By ALTON S. BOCK

Whether you're angry or happy, normal or neurotic, your voice will always give you

The way you talk is the best identification of your personality, habits and background, says a physician who has devoted nearly 40 years to the study of the human voice and its expression of emotional disturbances.

He is Dr. Paul J. Moses, one of the world's authorities on the psychology of voice disorders. He is giving a series of lectures this week in Dominican College's St. Thomas Hall in San Rafael.

About 75 nuns, public school teachers, military personnel and public health officials are attending the classes.

Moses was an instructor for 25 years at the Stanford Medical School in San Francisco and is now at San Francisco's Presbyterian Medical Center.

Moses can tell you a great deal about yourself by just listening to you talk.

"A person's life shows up in his speech," he says. "Any type of neurosis is exhibited in the voice, and the whole quality of the voice is the result of one's fears, experiences and influences—the total personality. The individual voice is determined mostly by psychological facts; not everything in the voice is produced by physical variations."

Moses alleges that the voice of any man or woman is capable of infinite range. Cultural mores have demanded that certain tonal registers be cultivated.

"In our so-called civilization, we have reduced the range. The labels attached to singers —soprano, mezzo-soprano, baritone—are purely artificial. Any voice is able to produce the gamut of sound."

In proof of this thesis, Moses says four singers, trained to produce all musical tones, have recorded a Brahms string quartet, "played" on human voices.

The strictures of society have led to conditions in the voice which open the way for voice disorders. These include, Moses says:

Immobile upper lip — This muscular tightness, which produces a "frozen moth" or mask-like face while speaking, is often the result of Anglo-Saxon reluctance to show emotion. Likewise, distorted speech turns up in German aristocracy because of the device of wearing a miracle, encouraged by German officers to emphasize their remoteness from the common soldier. Keeping the monocle in one eye tightens the face.

Lisping and high voices in men—the restriction of the voice in a search for security and longing for mother.

Calculated speech mannerisms—These are frequently a hint of schizophrenia.

Hoaarseness or indrawn breath—A psychotic indication that the speaker has a secret buried in his past which he refuses to admit.

The so-called breaking of the voice in adolescent boys—This is a confusion produced in the boy's mind by competition between paternal demands that he behave like an adult, yet be protected like a child, rather than any physical change.

Can serious speech defects be cured by psychoanalysis?

In many cases, this is difficult, Moses says. When a person knows why he has a problem, he will often refuse to change his habits because he finds them useful as a defense.

As an example, Moses cites stammering and stuttering: "There is much we don't know about causes, and treatment often grasps too few clues."

Moses warns that care of the voice is important in growing children. "A lot of damage is done in American schools, and the taxpayers pay for it: We have yell leaders as if we'd just jumped down from the trees. Voices are destroyed according to plan. It's an American disease. You will never get decent singers as long as this organized yelling is encouraged."

A native of eGrmany, Moses left there in the early 1930s to come to America after studying and teaching in Berlin, Vienna, Rome and London. He is a speech consultant for several Bay Area colleges and hospitals, and has written often for such publications as the Journal of Applied Psychology.

He is the author of a standard medical text, "The Voice of Neuroses," and is now at work on a psychological history of opera.

Water District Will Open Bids On Fish Traps

Marin Municipal Water District directors will open bids July 25 for construction of two migrant fish traps at Nicasio Lake.

The traps are required by the State Department of Fish and Game and will be used to transport young fish from the reservoir to streams below the lake, said B. J. Brusatori, district secretary. One such trap already exists at the lake.

The board of directors, at its meeting Wednesday, also approved installation of a 300-foot pipe and pressure regulator on Tamarack Road in San Geronimo to improve pressure in the area. Cost of construction is estimated at $1,000. Replacement of a 150-foot pipeline at an estimated cost of $1,200 on Prospect Avenue in Sausalito was approved.

Ross Council Thinks Tax Rate To Be Same

Ross town councilmen concluded last night, after discussing the tentative 1063 fiscal budget, that the tax rate will probably stay at $1.15 per $100 of assessed valuation.

The tentative budget presented by Mayor Harry C. Scott, shows a total estimated revenue of $100,270, up slightly over the 1962 fiscal budget of $98,452.

It calls for spending $99,073 during the new fiscal year, leaving a reserve of $1,197.

Breakdown of some expense items includes:

1. An additional man in the police department at a starting salary of $7,200 a year. This would give the town a three-man force, including the chief.

2. A new fire truck at $22,700, with down payment this year. The pumper would replace an old model. The acquisition will be on a five-year, lease-purchase plan.

3. Addition of one police car estimated at $2,433. There is now only one police car.

4. Installation of new radio equipment in emergency vehicles and in the fire and police stations to meet the county's new communication standards. This was estimated to cost $2,700.

5. Widening of Winding Way with extension of sidewalks, estimated at $3,000.

Councilmen deferred any action on the budget until their next meeting, Aug. 9.

Councilman Frederick Allen said a proposed five per cent raise for the street department crew and a $25 a month raise for the fire chief and the police chief will probably be acted on at that time, too.

In other business last night, town councilmen discussed but took no action on a proposed four-lot subdivision in the southeast, hillside section of town on the Rounds property. Developer is L. W. Niggeman of San Anselmo.

Two Hamilton Officers Safe, Plane Crashes

Two Hamilton Air Force Base officers parachuted to safety yesterday afternoon, minutes before their F-101 fighter crashed into a mountain near Salt Lake City, Utah.

Capt. Philip P. Combies of the 78th Fighter Wing Headquarters, who lives at Patterson Lane on the base, was pilot of the plane. He suffered a minor knee injury.

First Lt. John W. Booth of the 84th Fighter Interceptor Squadron, who lives at 1513 San Jose Boulevard, Raphael Village, was radar observer. He received minor bruises and a back injury.

Both men were held for observation today at Hill Air Force Base Hospital, Ogden, the Air Force reported.

The two were nearing the end of a routine flight from Hamilton to Hill Air Force Base at 3:35 p.m. when the plane developed engine trouble over Salt Lake City. The officers radioed to Hill about their trouble and bailed out.

They landed one mile east of Little Mountain, on the east shore of Great Salt Lake. The three-million-dollar plane, from the 84th Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Hamilton, crashed and burned on an isolated mountainside.

Helicopters from Hill Air Force Base were circling in the air near the men when they parachuted. The men were picked up within minutes and taken directly to the hospital, the Air Force reported.

Mrs. Long Might Have Been On Bus

Mrs. Eva Louise Long, 67-year-old Mill Valley woman fatally injured while crossing Highway 101 near the Richardson Bay Bridge Tuesday, had apparently just been let off a bus or private car on her return from a trip to San Francisco.

Deputy Coroner William C. Bradley said today it is the only reasonable explanation he can make for Mrs. Long being at that place on the highway during the rush-hour traffic at 6:40 p.m.

She was struck by at least two cars and received multiple fractures. She died at Marin General Hospital next morning.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

Big Lumber Truck Crashes Into School

McCLOUD (AP)—A huge lumber truck and trailer rig was jammed in the principal's office of McCloud's elementary school today and officials were uncertain whether a summer session could open Monday.

Nor were they certain whether the extensive damage could be repaired in time to avoid delay of the fall school session.

Brakes failed on the lumber-laden vehicle yesterday and sped down a hill and through the main street of this Siskiyou County lumber town of around 900 population.

director Dan London that miniature traffic control arches by installed on the model of the bridge to be displayed at the Sonoma County Fair opening July 18 was tabled until after the fair. It was suggested the model might be acquired by the bridge district then.

The directors also:

1. Approved, over opposition of Murphy and San Francisco director Phillips Davies, the purchase of an additional five million dollars in multi-risk insurance at cost of $76,950 for three years. The addition brings total bridge insurance to 40 million dollars.

2. Received a letter from the Marin County Board of Supervisors asking immediate study of one-way bridge tolls, and referred it to the attorney and finance and building and operations committees. Murphy said Marin's supervisors "have a one-sided view" and should be invited to a committee hearing on the proposal.

3. Agreed to meet July 27 at 10:30 a.m. in the Sonoma County supervisors' chambers in Santa Rosa.

VOICE

Vida, their son Richard, 8, and daughter Barbara Jean, 13. Mrs. Canney and Richard are visiting relatives in Connecticut. Barbara, an outstanding swimmer, was staying with the James F. Donovan family in Terra Linda.

Sheriff's Deputy Theodore V. Hughes, Inspector Marco Melovich, Identification Technician Edward Klementovich and the deputy coroner arrived at the home about 9:40 p.m.

There was no note, but investigators found empty vials of demerol and sodium penathol and a hypodermic needle and syringe.

Bradley said he was told Dr. Canney had been despondent and moody in the past.

The doctor was formerly a major in the Army. He was promoted to chief anesthetist at the hospital last Saturday.

The body was taken to Harry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael. The doctor's wife was to fly back to San Rafael this afternoon to make funeral arrangements.

Investigators said Dr. Sunseri had an argument with Dr. Canney at the hospital yesterday afternoon, and Dr. Canney went home. About 7:45 p.m., Dr. Canney called Dr. Sunseri at the hospital, then lapsed into unconsciousness.

Mary Katherine Berry of San Anselmo died today in a local hospital after a long illness. She was 89.

Her husband, F. Harry Berry, died last year at the age of 90. They had been married 64 years.

Mrs. Berry and her husband moved to their home at 931 San Anselmo Avenue nine years ago from Spokane, Wash. Berry was a retired railroad machinist.

Mrs. Berry had been active in the First Baptist Church in San Anselmo and was a past president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union chapter.

Mrs. Berry was a native of Minnesota.

She leaves a son, Harold F. Berry of San Rafael; a daughter, Mrs. Earle M. Young of Kentfield, and six grandchildren.

Funeral service will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. in Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael. Entombment will be private.

Carole Tregoff Becomes Catholic

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Her ex-husband says Carole Tregoff, serving a life prison term for the sensational slaying of Barbara Jean Finch, has taken up religion.

James Pappa added in a copyrighted interview with the Herald-Examiner, she hopes to lead a normal life when she gets out. She's eligible for parole after serving seven years.

Miss Tregoff was convicted last year with a wealthy West Covina surgeon, Dr. R. Bernard Finch, of murdering his socialite wife. Dr. Finch is serving a life term at San Quentin Prison.

MOUNT TAMALPAIS CEMETERY in the Heart of our County

Marin pioneers chose a site in the heart of our county as a final resting place for their families. Today this location—at the west end of Fifth Avenue in San Rafael—is still convenient to all Marin points.

Marinites who choose Mount Tamalpais do so with the assurance that its beauty will grow with the years. The interest from a quarter-million dollar endowment fund—twice the legal requirement—is dedicated to the constant care and improvement of this 57-acre site.

Perhaps—like many Marin families—you wish to make your own final arrangements to spare others difficult decisions. If so, we invite your inquiry or a personal visit.

Owner Requests Assessment Cut —Neighbors Hiked

Because a Paradise Cay property owner tried yesterday to get his assessment reduced by the Marin County Board of Supervisors, the assessments of nine of his neighbors will be raised.

Jack Bartalini of San Bruno, owner of a lot in the Tiburon subdivision, asked that assessed valuation of his property be reduced from $3,910 to $2,740. He said his lot should have the same value as unsold lots in Paradise Cay.

Bartalini said Paradise Cay lots were hard to sell and he was forced to compete with the subdivider who could offer a more attractive price.

"Nowhere does the law state that a discount should be given to a developer," he declared.

County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel held, however, that the subdivider, who has tied up money in improvements, must be compared to a wholesaler, and the lot purchase to a consumer.

John Chambers, chief appraiser for the assessor's office, said Bartalini's assessment was proper. But, he said, the appraisal staff had "failed to make up-to-date changes" on nine other lots held by individual owners in Paradise Cay.

His solution, approved by the supervisors, was to leave Bartalini's assessment untouched, and raise the other nine lots to various figures between $3,680 and $4,370.

Bartalini's boomerang complaint was one of two heard yesterday by the supervisors in their role of a board of equalization. They met again in that role today and will continue daily at 9 a.m. next week, except on Tuesday.

Winds Cause Trailer To Topple On Bridge

Winds whipping through the Golden Gate yesterday afternoon caused a house trailer to overturn at the north end of the Golden Gate Bridge.

Lovell B. Petty, 41, of Sunnyvale, driver of a car towing a small house trailer, told California Highway Patrol officers he felt the trailer swaying as he approached the bridge.

Suzanne K. Zimmer, 25, of San Francisco, driving behind Petty, saw the trailer topple. Swerving to avoid it, she crashed her car into wooden barricades set up for highway construction at the bridge access.

Neither Petty nor Miss Zimmer was injured.

Lois F. Mowat, 41, of Petaluma suffered a bruised neck yesterday when her car went off Highway 101 and hit a tree south of the Lincoln Avenue intersection in San Rafael. She was treated at San Rafael General Hospital.

Highway patrolmen said Mrs. Mowat's southbound car went out of control when she attempted to avoid hitting a northbound car driven by Charlene D. Muscat, 19, of San Francisco. Miss Muscat told officers she crossed into southbound lanes to avoid another car passing a truck.

Jay Laumeister, 19, of 42 Upper Alcatraz Avenue, Mill Valley, suffered minor injuries last night when his motor scooter collided with a car on the college entrance drive on the campus.

The patrol said Laumeister's scooter was struck by a small sedan driven by Robert N. Rowan, 36, of 131 Kent Avenue, Kentfield. Rowan was cited for driving on the wrong side of the road. Laumeister was treated for a cut lip and bruised right foot at Marin General Hospital.

Picked Up For Theft From Car

A San Rafael woman, suspected of stealing a hubcap and an aerial from a parked car, was jailed today by San Rafael police.

Carol Janice Rourke, 31, of 187 Greenfield Avenue was stopped in her car by Officer Richard A. Douglas about 2:30 a.m. near Taylor and C streets. Inside her car were the hubcap and an aerial from a car belonging to Ray DeLeon of 79 Woodland Avenue.

Residents of an apartment at 77 Woodland Avenue called police at 2:12 a.m. when they noticed a woman take a hubcap and the aerial off DeLeon's car.

She was booked on suspicion of car tampering and drunkenness and held in $381 bail.

Army Colonel Takes Over NORAD Post

Col. Charles P. Samson, U. S. Army, this week took over as assistant deputy for operations of the 28th NORAD (North American Air Defense Region) headquarters at Hamilton Air Force Base.

He succeeds Col. Malcolm F. Gilchrist, who retired June 30, to become president of Columbia Military Academy in Columbia, Tenn.

Samson has had 24 years of military service. His last assignment was in Washington, D. C. In 1957 and 1958, he was Nike battalion commander in the San Francisco area. Later he was personnel officer for the Sixth Region Army Air Defense Command at Fort Baker.

Samson served in the Pacific during World War II and received the Purple Heart and the Bronze Star. From 1954 to 1956, he was stationed in Japan.

He is a graduate of Oregon State College and is married to the former Gertrude Peper of Minnesota.

Suspicious Pair Found To Be CYA Escapers

A citizen's suspicions and a policeman's hunch yesterday resulted in the arrest in Novato of two escapees from a California Youth Authority camp at Ben Lomond, Santa Clara County.

Howard Evans of Mountain View, a part-time employee of the Novato Unified School District, phoned police at 2 p.m. that two "suspicious characters" were loitering at a service station at Seventh Street and Grant Avenue.

Officer Floyd Hallowell took the pair to the police station.

They identified themselves as Carlos Lopes, 22, and George Lee Stevens, 19, both of Montebello, Los Angeles County. They told Hallowell they were looking for work and had just come from San Jose.

They could not show proper identification, so Hallowell booked them into the Marin County Jail on suspicion of disorderly conduct.

He called the FBI, and Dale Norton, FBI agent in San Rafael, quizzed the pair in the jail. Under Norton's questioning "Lopes" admitted he was Carlos Peter Portillo of Los Angeles. "Stevens" said he was Jake Frederick Zitzer, Jr., of Los Angeles County.

Both had escaped from the CYA camp last Monday, Novato police said. Their jail booking was changed to a charge of escape.

JAIL VIGIL PLANNED FOR PACIFISTS

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A 12-hour vigil in support of five men convicted in the Everyman I nuclear protest venture will be held at the Alameda County Jail at Santa Rita Sunday, it was announced today.

A spokesman for the "committee for Everyman" said 150 persons were expected to appear at the jail at 10 a.m.

Meanwhile, the U.S. Court of Appeals has upheld Honolulu federal court injunctions forbidding three California pacifists from sailing into the Johnston Island nuclear testing zone.

The appellate court here refused yesterday to stay enforcement of the injunctions issued in Hawaii by U.S. District Judge Martin Pence on June 22 and July 6 against Franklin Zahn of Pomona, Dr. Monte Gregg Steadman of Corte Madera and C. George Benello of Berkeley.

Highway Job Let

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The state department of public works has awarded a $144,881 contract to Watkin and Sibbald, San Anselmo, for grading and surfacing parking areas and freeway connections and providing landscaping at Vista Point near the north end of the Golden Gate Bridge on Highway 101.

Homestead Club Says Federation 'Hasty' On Gate Bridge Dissolution

The Marin Federation of Improvement Clubs acted "hastily" in calling for dissolution of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, the Homestead Valley Improvement Club decided this week.

The club's board of directors voted a resolution asking the federation to reconsider its action and study operation of the bridge at greater length before making any recommendation.

"The federation's action was not based on a full investigation," said Mrs. Jo Schlesinger, acting president while President Jacques Nadler, club representative on the federation board, is in the hospital.

Directors heard a report from the Homestead players on their intention to hold a Shakespeare festival in September. The players will use the natural ampitheater in the Stolte Redwood Grove near Mill Valley to present an "afternoon of scenes from Shakespeare" with music and dance accompaniment.

The club's third annual art festival will be held Aug. 11 and 12 at Brown's Hall in Mill Valley. It is not limited to Homestead artists.

PETITE VISITEUSE—Poucette (center), diminutive French painter, took time away from showing her works at the Pomeroy Galleries in San Francisco last week for a party at Fleur de Lys in San Anselmo. Her paintings are among the collections of the Shah of Iran, the Earl of Warwick, Mrs. Paul Mellon and other notables. She recently completed illustrations for an unabridged French version of Thousand and One Nights.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Have You Been Alert Lately? It's Tourist Time In Marin

Have you noticed it—or haven't you been going out lately?

This is the time of year when the tourists visit Marin County. They may be on their way to the Seattle World's Fair or from it. But it seems to me there are more of them than usual.

Trust them to find the interesting spots to dine. They hunt them down with guidebooks, happily blunder into them or deliberately seek them out because of a few words of commendation from a last year's visitor.

It's your own home ground, and you—at least—should be as well informed as they. Use some of your stay-at-home vacation days to get better acquainted with your county. It's embarrassing to meet someone in Palm Springs who knows Marin dineries better than you do.

For example, how much do you really know about this place?

THE MENU is in French and English; the wines are mostly French but with an accompanying list of top American labels to choose from. The prices are in that present day range which is as unlike that of 10 or 15 years ago as in the cost difference of building a house. But not as forbidding as it sounds, and more reasonable than some in the same category.

This is Fleur de Lys (and if you pronounce it correctly you'll make the last syllable lees). In San Anselmo. Not as overwhelming as Fleur de Lys in San Francisco, nor was it intended to be. More intimate. Relaxing. Now long enough in Marin to have established its own customs and to have them accepted.

Comparatively small and it doesn't take a convention to overcrowd it. There's an air of decorum but also a touch of Parisian gaiety that urges you to enjoy yourself. Tomorrow is another day.

Some say it's different from other French restaurants. I agree.

If you're caught in a crossfire of French idiom or repartee you won't feel uncomfortable if you don't understand it. Laughter is the same in any language. And someone will be kind enough to translate.

FOR THE REAL cosmopolitan touch, Sausalito's the place. Ondine, Sally's Valhalla, the Spinnaker—all have the tourists' blessing, fine linen, smart service and views. Alta Mira Hotel, also, and there's always that lingering impression you're somewhere on the Mediterranean. Sometimes during the midweek you can avoid the crowds if that is your will, but not always. Early in the evening at Ondine is suggested without a reservation.

GERMAN FOOD? The Buckeye, abaft the Richardson Bridge and recently closed for vacation, opens again next Wednesday, the 18th. Fine dinners and lunches, but always closed on Mondays and Tuesdays.

STRICTLY FRENCH is Le Vivoir at the Casa Madrona Hotel. Hand-lettered menu, all imported wines, and a view.

IN LARKSPUR, the oldtimer is Blue Rock Inn. Like Sally's it is reminiscent of an earlier day, but more informal and less rococo. It has earned an honest reputation for good food. Excellent steaks.

ACROSS THE STREET, localites have begun to gather more frequently at the Charcoal Broiler. Another Victorian setting. Red carpet on the floor and red glassware. Reasonably priced—now $1.85 straight across the board for all its dinners. The menu is three dimensional—you're brought a plate showing exactly what's served before you order. No surprises except how so much good can cost so little. Unbelievable. Three cheers and three stars.

MARIN'S SMALL PLACES have their share of tourists. You'd hardly think to find them at Eugene's pancake house in San Rafael, but look in at breakfast time. Surprising how word gets 'round.

Which reminds me, Sunday morning the Horseless Carriage Club of Marin gathers here for breakfast. Their cars will be lined up in the rear parking lot. A prelude, I guess, to the annual tour of the Bay Area Horseless Carriage Club which will headquarter at Rickey's Rancho Rafael over Saturday and Sunday, July 21-22, and caravan up into Sonoma County and the Valley of the Moon. About 60 real old-timers coming, I understand.

TOURISTS find their way to Ramona's, too. Maybe it's the tamalitos. I'm told she's considering packaging them. Good idea. Wonderful hors d'oeuvres for a cocktail party or for picnics. Dinner hours here have been extended to later in the evening.

Hatfield-McCoy Mountain Boys

PIKEVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The families involved in the famous Hatfield-McCoy feud carried on their battle during the last part of the 18th Century. The Hatfields lived in West Virginia and the McCoys just across a narrow stream in Pike County, Kentucky.

Members of the two clans started taking pot shots at each other with muzzle-loading rifles after the McCoys claimed one of the Hatfield boys had played free and easy with the affections of a McCoy girl.

WINES

The Magic Word Is Imported

California or imported wines?

In colonial times, to get a quality of any kind, you imported it. And "imported" is still a magic selling word today.

It's not all snob appeal, though it's true some restaurants are ready enough to capitalize on that aspect. The fact is, many Americans are romantic enough to respond vicariously to the sound of foreign words or at the sight of foreign labels even when they don't understand them. And if they have visited the countries from which the words originated there's a natural tendency to show off what knowledge they do have.

If you're a pushover for a restaurant menu written in French it may be a letdown to settle for a well known California brand of Cabernet Sauvignon with your tournedos aux herbes. But if the waiter were to suggest a mellow Chateau de Lyde it would seem compatible. Yet the two wines may be similar enough to stump anyone but an expert in saying which is which—blindfolded.

On the other hand, there are some stalwart souls who insist on ordering a California wine, no matter what they eat nor how snooty the waiter. Hooray for them! Their choice may not be from discernment, but it's patriotic.

American winegrowers — of which California boasts the greatest number by far—have a special cross to bear. The word domestic. It takes determination to fight off a handicap like that.

Yet many restaurants and beverage retailers insist on listing their American wines that way. The connotation unfortunately is mediocrity.

The fact: Top American wines are as good as any extensively marketed in the U.S. and better than most. The proof: Comparative tastings by wine growers in the last five years.

As to choosing one or the other, let it be through understanding, not glamour appeal, as to whether you go imported or domestic. Whoops! My mistake! American!

Road Landscaping Action Asked Now

The San Rafael Chamber of Commerce today went on record urging immediate action by the city council to qualify the Francisco Boulevard stretch of Highway 101 for state landscaping.

Chamber President Jess J. France Jr. addressed a letter to the council informing it that the chamber's board of directors has voted to urge an immediate ordinance change to qualify the stretch for beautification by the state when the highway is widened.

Such action was urged at the July 2 city council meeting by Gene F. O'Connor and Joe Petersen of the San Rafael Beautiful Committee.

The chamber board voted a commendation to the San Rafael Beautiful Committee for its effort toward the project.

Fremont Statue Is Proposed For Alcatraz Island

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A San Francisco attorney has proposed a statue of the late Gen. John C. Fremont on Alcatraz Island, soon to be abandoned by its federal prison.

Marvin Lewis, attorney for the heirs of the famed "pathfinder," wrote Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson yesterday that Fremont held title to Alcatraz and Fort Mason when he died in 1890. He said the federal government had taken the two properties without paying Fremont.

If there is to be a monument on the island, he said, it should be a statue of Fremont.

Anderson replied a monument should add to the beauty of the bay, be available for maximum public use and reflect the idea of freedom.

Stinson-Bolinas School Appointee

Mrs. Mildred Haraldsen of Bolinas has been appointed to the board of trustees of the Bolinas-Stinson Union High School District.

Mrs. Haraldsen will replace former chairman Rolland M. McCready, who recently moved to Mill Valley. He had served on the board one year.

At a re-organization meeting this week, delayed from July 1 because of a lack of quorum, trustees elected Mrs. Blanche Eustis of Stinson Beach as chairman. Aurthur E. Carpenter was re-elected clerk to serve a second year.

Investigator Bemiss Quits Office Of D.A.

William H. Bemiss, investigator for the Marin district attorney since 1954, resigned from his job effective this week for "personal reasons," Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety announced today.

"His service in this office has been outstanding and his leaving is a loss to the district attorney and to the county," Garety said. The district attorney added that he hopes Bemiss will be able to take care of his personal matters and return to his job. In the meantime, Garety will seek a successor, probably on a temporary basis.

Bemiss has been drawing $638 per month. The job carries a salary range of $531 to $663.

Bemiss and his colleague, Antoan W. Adam Jr., are investigators for the district attorney specializing in tracking down errant fathers who fail to support their families.

Homestead School Playground Open

The playground at Homestead school in Homestead Valley will be open to children for supervised play through the middle of August from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays.

An arts and crafts program is offered Tuesday and Thursday mornings. Other activities include sewing, movies, group games and singing and reading. Directors are Ray Edwards and Richard Seiki.

Approximately 260 children have signed up for programs at the playground, which is supported by community donations. Registration will continue through the season.

Novato Farmer Killed In Wreck

Funeral services will be held Monday for a 74-year-old Novato farmer who died Wednesday night of injuries suffered in a Sonoma County traffic crash.

Primo Paladini of 2049 Center Road died in a Santa Rosa hospital six hours after his car collided at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday with a pole trailer pulled behind a Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. truck on Highway 12 north of Agua Caliente, between Sonoma and Boyes Springs.

Paladini and his wife, Antoinette, had called at the B. R. Funston ranch to sell some grape boxes. As they were leaving, they pulled into the highway in front of the truck driven by Ronald J. Walland, 24, of Napa, reported the California Highway Patrol.

Walland swerved the two-ton truck to the right and braked. The pole trailer swung in a sharp arc and caved in the left side of the Paladini car. The truck smashed into a standing utility pole.

Paladini suffered servere head and shoulder injuries, from which he died six hours later in Santa Rosa Memorial Hospital, where he was taken after emergency treatment at Sonoma Valley Hospital.

Mrs. Paladini 64, suffered minor injuries. She returned home to Novato yesterday after hospital treatment.

The truck driver, Walland, was treated for minor injuries by a physician.

Paladini's death was the 36th this year in Sonoma County traffic. Marin County has had 14 traffic fatalities so far this year.

Paladini was born in Lucca, Italy. He came from Italy to Novato in 1911, and went into vineyarding and walnut growing. For many years, he had done orchard pruning for other farmers.

He was a member of the Marin County Farm Bureau.

Besides his wife, he leaves three brothers, Nello, Guido and Cerubino Paladini, all of Novato.

Requiem Mass will be celebrated Monday at 10 a.m. at Our Lady of Loretto Catholic Church in Novato. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Sunday at the Redwood Chapel Funeral Home in Novato. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael.

Humane Society Re-Elects

All officers of the Marin County Humane Society, headed by Frederic D. Kerr as president, were re-elected at the society's 55th annual meeting at its headquarters in San Rafael yesterday.

Besides Kerr, officers are Jordan L. Martinelli Jr., vice president; Mrs. H. E. LeBas, treasurer, and Mel L. Morse, secretary and executive director.

A special guest at the meeting was Coley, a pitbull that has figured in two Marin court trials within the past six months. Coley took the witness stand in the January trial of Joseph, George and Clem Sequeira on dog fighting charges. She was the central figure in the later trial of Joseph C. Santos, to whom the dog was given by the Sequeiras, on a charge of cruelty to animals. She is now being boarded at the humane society shelter.

Hospital Reserve Training Completed

The 364th General Hospital an Army Reserve unit commanded by Col. Rafael G. Dufficy Jr. of San Rafael, has completed two-week summer training at Fort Ord.

Home base of the unit is the Presidio of San Francisco. Marin County officers besides Colonel Dufficy, who is county medical director, are Maj. Frank F. Costano and Maj. Robert F. Palmer of Mill Valley, and Capt. Forrest N. Johnson of Terra Linda.

Bike, Auto Collide; Fairfax Boy Treated

Robert S. Foppoli, 9, of 106 Dominga Avenue, Fairfax, was treated at Marin General Hospital last night for a bruised knee after his bicycle collided with a car which was leaving the parking area at the Food Villa Market in Fairfax.

Driver of the car was Shirley C. Temen, 33, Westbrae Drive, Fairfax, police reported. She was not cited.

Muir Beach CSD Appoints Smith To Fill Vacancy

Trustees of the Muir Beach Community Services District have appointed Leslie Smith, who lost election to the board by one vote in September, to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Allison E. Schofield, president.

Schofield had announced before the election he intended to resign to "give these young fellows a chance" and suggested the fourth place candidate for three vacancies be appointed when he did so.

"I call this poetic justice," Schofield said today.

The board will elect a new president and vice president at its August meeting.

At a meeting this week the board heard that McCandless and Co., Menlo Park engineers, believe they have found a method to remove iron content from the Muir Beach water.

Drunken Drivers Are Given Fines

One drunken driver drew a jail term and fine and another got off with a fine and probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court.

Judge Harold J. Haley ordered 10 days jail and $276 fine for Francis Raymond Welch Jr., 30, of 65 Hermit Lane, Kentfield. He was arrested on Magnolia Avenue in Larkspur on May 19. Welch had two prior convictions for drunken driving, in 1952 and 1956.

Basil Grant Lovely, 33, of Glen Ellen must pay $149 fine and remain on probation for six months. Lovely was arrested on Bridgeway in Sausalito on June 24.

Stolen Stocks Turn Into Tickets To Jail

NEW YORK (UPI)—More than 1.3 million dollars worth of stolen blue chip stocks were sought by police today. The hot securities will turn into tickets to jail for anyone who tries to cash them in.

Before authorities revealed they knew of the theft from the Wall Street brokerage firm of Bache and Co., two men allegedly tried to peddle some of the stocks and were caught.

The stock certificate numbers were on file today at brokerage houses throughout the U.S. and chances are slim that holders of the stocks could sell them.

The two men in custody—convicted bookmaker Isidore Gorlitsky, 41, and Alan Louis Fisher, 55—had less than $90,000 worth of the stolen securities.

A spokesman for Bache said that the certificates were negotiable before they were stolen but that as soon as the theft came to light the brokerage firm in effect stopped payment on them much in the manner of a check.

He said that all the banks and brokerage houses in the country were notified of the numbers on each of the missing certificates and directed to refuse any offer of sale. He said that transfer agents are now in the process of issuing new certificates to replace the stolen ones.

Tam Improvement Club Protesting Apartment Plan

The Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club believe building an apartment at the corner of Shoreline and Maple Street would be a "traffic hazard" and will ask county planning commissioners not to rezone property there when they meet Monday.

Charles Roll, owner of the property, has requested the land be rezoned from residenuse.

In a letter drafted at a meeting last night, club members held such rezoning would change the Tamalpais Valley master plan and create a hazard at the corner where several streets run together at a sharp curve, according to Miriam Burdick, club secretary.

Baptist Seminary Staff Member Gets Honor

A staff member on leave of absence from the Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary on Strawberry Point has been named president of the graduating class of George Peabody College Library School in Nashville, Tenn.

Calvin C. Turpin, associate librarian at the seminary, is studying for his master of arts degree in library science at the Southern college.

Dusseldorf, Germany, is capital of the North-Rhine Westfalia industrial area.

Gallinas Valley Recreation Funds?

Gallinas Village residents will be asked next week whether they want to spend any money for recreation services.

Directors of the Gallinas Village Community Services District last night voted to send 500 questionnaires to residents, asking:

Do you favor added taxes or a bond issue to pay for recreation?

Should there be facilities for both adults and children?

What kind of recreation do you want: tennis, swimming, ball parks, or other?

The move toward setting up recreation services was suggested by board chairman Allan Gwynne. The CSD district was originally set up for sanitary and recreation services but has never budgeted any funds for recreation.

Envoy To Ireland

WASHINGTON (AP)—Matthew H. McCloskey, 69, Philadelphia contractor and former Democratic party treasurer, will be packing soon for Dublin.

His nomination by President John F. Kennedy as ambassador to Ireland was confirmed by voice vote yesterday after Republican demands for further investigation by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee were rejected 62-30.

Marin City Families May Buy Homes

Families living in Marin City will be able to purchase one-family three or four bedroom homes to be built in Marin City for prices ranging from $15,950 to $18,500.

Construction of the first 59 homes will begin next week, according to Bert Klahn, executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority.

The Marin County Redevelopment Agency approved purchase prices for the homes presented by Barrett Construction Co. of San Francisco, contractor, at a public hearing this week, Klahn said.

Prices for the houses, designed by architects DeMars and Reay of Berkeley, are: $15,950 for the Belvedere model with three bedrooms and one bath; the three bedroom and one-and-a-half bath Inverness will sell at $17,150. A similar home with slightly more floor space, the Lagunitas, will sell for $17,200; the Tiburon, with four bedrooms and two baths, will go at $18,500.

Sale of the homes will be limited to families presently living in Marin City who qualify financially. Local, Federal Housing Authority and Veteran's Administration financing will be available.

Klahn said prices for the homes, in the planning stage for several years, have gone up slightly since the project was initiated. Originally prices were estimated from $15,200 to $17,750, he said.

The Marin County Housing Authority has announced that 561 families are presently living in Marin City, a decrease of three families in the past 30 days.

Top Cowboys Due At Fair Tomorrow

Top cowboys from California will be riding and roping at tomorrow night's rodeo at the Sonoma-Marin Fair in Petaluma.

A handsome belt buckle, proclaiming the owner to be the "All Round Cowboy of 1962" will be presented to the winner by Jim Palm, owner of a Petaluma saddle shop.

Last year's winner, Ron Bigon of Santa Rosa, will try again this year for a repeat win. Events scheduled are bare-back riding, saddle broncs, brahma bulls, bull dogging, calf roping, team roping, and girl's barrel racing.

Palmer Shatters All Records In British Triumph

TROON, Scotland (UPI) — Incomparable Arnold Palmer shot a course-record 67 and a 69 today to win the British Open Golf championships for the second straight year with a record 72-hole total of 276 strokes.

Palmer's winning margin of six strokes over Kel Nagle of Australia was the largest since 1949, when Bobby Locke of South Africa defeated Harry Bradshaw of Ireland by 12 strokes in a 36-hole playoff.

Nagle, who played in a twosome with Palmer on the two final rounds of the tournament today, shot a pair of 70's to wind up with a 282 total.

The 32-year-old Masters champion from Latrobe, Pa., sank a 14-foot birdie putt on the final hole to break the old tournament record of 278 set by Peter Thomson of Australia in 1958 and tied by Nagle the following year.

This marked the 12th time this 102-year-old tournament was won by an American. And it matched the feats of Walter Hagen, Locke and Thomson, the most recent golfers who had made a successful defense of this championship.

Phil Rodgers, 24-year-old rookie pro from La Jolla, Calif., shot two rounds of 72 to finish in a tie for third place with Brian Huggett of England at 289.

Palmer started the day with a two-stroke lead on Nagle. He widened that to five strokes with his five-under-par 35-32 on the morning round, and after the first 11 holes of the afternoon 18, he led Nagle by 10 strokes. Bogeys on subsequent holes as he eased up narrowed Palmer's final margin to six strokes.

Glory Days Of Galloping Gaels Relived At San Rafael Reunion

Three Galloping Gaels of yesteryear, slowed down to a trot by age, were huddled over a booth at Dutch's San Rafael 751 Club the other day, reliving some of the times when they helped make St. Mary's College a national football power.

Reading from left to right, they were Eddie Erdelatz, the great end and later a greater coach; James "Sid" Ahern, the durable quarterback, and Gordon Partee, a fullback whose "fumbleitis" was a controversial weapon, about which we'll discuss later.

All three were regulars for Slip Madigan's Gaels for three years in the early '30s. Making their meeting a little more complete Monday was the appearance of three other St. Mary's classmates — Russ Sorich, a former tennis and swimming star, now route manager for Lucas Valley Dairy; Elmer Voto, the Gaels' cheer leader (still mighty vociferous) with National Distilling, and Al Tognoli, former waterboy, now a San Rafael businessman.

DR. ARNOLD NUTTING

ERDELATZ, WHO later coached at St. Mary's, the 49ers, Annapolis and Oakland Raiders, is a vice-president with Marin Title Guaranty, located across from Dutch's. He was unaware of his former teammates' visit to San Rafael, so it was quite a surprise when he bumped into them at lunch.

Ahearn was vacationing in San Rafael from Honolulu where he works for Associated Oil.

Partee was on a visit from the Sacramento Valley where he represents Sutter Caskett Co. Older fans will remember him as the one who would deliberately "fumble" the ball downfield just when being tackled. Virtually every time a fellow Gael would be in position to recover the fumble, many times over the goal line.

It worked so often that the Gaels gained a reputation for fumbling their way to victory. Their three straight victories over mighty Fordham skyrocketed St. Mary's from an obscure college to a national power.

Messrs. Erdelatz, Ahearn and Partee will now stand and take a bow.

DR. ARNOLD NUTTING of San Rafael has landed a choice job, though only a temporary one. He's been selected as a physician for the great U.S. track and field team for its big meet against the Soviet Union at Stanford July 21-22.

We call it a "choice" job because Dr. Nutting is an avid sports fan and himself a former track great at U. of California where he held a broad jump record of 25 feet, 3 inches for many years.

Not wishing any ill luck to the U.S. team, we hope at least one mighty star stubs a toe or sprains a finger just so the good doctor can earn his way into the stadium.

Dr. Nutting's selection to the U.S. team is appropriate because he was the mastermind of the highly successful Sports Injury Conference held in San Rafael last March. So complete was the conference that every talk and discussion at the day-long meeting was recorded on tape and compiled in brochure form.

Yessir, Dr. Nutting is THE man for the U.S. team next weekend. Why, besides his medical talents, he may be a perfect substitute should anything happen to Uncle Sam's broad jump star.

SAN RAFAEL'S young Kramer Herzog, quite a skier, spent 10 days in the seventh annual summer ski racing school last month at Mt. Hood, Oregon, placed third behind Australian Olympic star Pete Breckhoff in the slalom event but first in a Limbo contest. Proving? That he's a better dancer than skier or that dancing and skiing go together.

GARIBALDI WILL PITCH—IF S.F. HAS BIG LEAD

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Big Bob Garibaldi, the college pitcher who cost San Francisco's Giants a $150,000 bonus, may make his debut next week. But chances are it won't be in a starting role.

Manager Alvin Dark said last night that he would use the former Santa Clara ace in relief first and probably in a lop-sided affair.

Garibaldi officially joins the Giants Sunday in New York for a doubleheader against the cellar-dwelling Mets. He'll don a uniform then and pitch about five minutes of batting practice.

Pitcher Ken McBride of the Los Angeles Angels is a native of Huntsville, Ala.

O'Dell Vs. Phils Tonight

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Old pros Willie Mays and Stu Miller combined to lead San Francisco past Philadelphia, 5-3, last night to keep the Giants a half game behind the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Mays whacked three hits and starred on the basepaths while Miller mopped up after starter Jack Sanford to give Sanford his tenth win of the campaign.

Jimmy Davenport, Orlando Cepeda and Jose Pagan each chipped in with two hits apiece as the Giants outhit the Phils, 11-9.

Manager Alvin Dark called on lefty Billy O'Dell (10-7) to start tonight's tussle here. It will be Dennis Bennett (2-4) for the host team.

The Giants opened right up on loser Jack Hamilton, who is 5-4 against the rest of the league, but seemingly easy pickings for the Giants, who have handed him three defeats.

Davenport singled in the first, went to second on a passed ball and romped home on Mays' single to right. It was the 80th run which Willie has driven home this year.

BALTIMORE CHOPPER

In the second, Cepeda walked and Tom Haller singled. Pagan then hit a Baltimore chopper into the air. By the time it came down, the bases were loaded. Sanford and Charlie Hiller lofted sacrifice flies and the Giants had a 3-0 lead.

Mays put on his one-man show in the fifth. He singled and stole second. Hamilton tried to pick him off, but hit umpire Dusty Boggess instead and Willie legged it to third.

Felipe Alou then bounced one to shortstop Bob Wine. Wine forced Willie to hold and then tossed to first. As soon as he let loose, Mays broke for the plate and slid in safely.

Pagan swatted a homer in the fifth to round out the Giants scoring. It was the Phils turn then. They scored once in the seventh and Roy Sievers homered with two out in the eighth. Clayton Dalrymple doubled and Sanford gave way to Miller.

Don Demeter singled in Dalrymple, but Miller finished up in good style after that.

3 Sluggers Chase Dodgers' Davis For N.L. Bat Honors

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

While the Los Angeles Dodgers and San Francisco Giants duel for National League supremacy, there's another tight little battle for the batting lead — where three belters named Hank Aaron, Frank Robinson and Roberto Clemente are providing a stiff challenge to the Dodgers' Tommy Davis.

Davis managed only a single last night, but drove in his 91st run of the season as the Dodgers beat the last-place New York Mets for the 10th time in 11 games 3-0, getting a combined three-hitter from Sandy Koufax and Larry Sherry.

Meanwhile, Aaron climaxed a four-hit night with a ninth-inning, bases-loaded homer that gave Milwaukee an 8-6 victory over St. Louis; Robinson had three hits and batted in three runs, including the clincher, in Cincinnati's 8-4 decision over Chicago and Clemente helped Pittsburgh trim Houston 6-4 with three hits.

The heroics left Davis with a .353 average while Clemente climbed to .348, Robinson to .344 and Aaron to .336.

In the NL's other game, the Giants beat Philadelphia 5-3. The victory kept San Francisco right at the Dodgers' heels —a half game behind.

ANGELS DROP YANKS

In the American League, Los Angeles held off New York's front-running Yankees 5-4, Cleveland climbed to within four percentage points of the Yanks with a 6-4 decision over Baltimore, Washington beat Minnesota 7-4 in 10 innings, Chicago edged Detroit 3-2 and Boston gained a split with Kansas City winning the second game 9-4 in 11 innings after losing the opener 5-4.

Dodger southpaw Sandy Koufax, bothered by a sore pitching hand but able to go seven strong innings, won his 14th against four losses in his first meeting with the Mets since he no-hit them June 30. The clever southpaw allowed three hits and struck out six before giving way to Larry Sherry, who held the Mets hitless the last two innings.

The Dodgers didn't overwhelm right-hander Roger Craig, but got good mileage from their hitting. They broke through with two runs in the fourth on doubles by Jim Gilliam and Willie Davis, followed by Tommy Davis' single, then closed out the scoring in the ninth when Ron Fairly doubled and John Roseboro tripled.

Hank Aaron rapped his grand slam off Cardinal relief star Lindy McDaniel, who had not given up an earned run in 15 appearances dating back to May 31. Hank's kid brother Tommy ignited the Brave rally in the ninth with a pinch homer against Larry Jackson.

GRAND SLAM

Then Roy McMillan singled. McDaniel came on, dished up a single to Mack Jones and a walk to Eddie Mathews, and Aaron followed with the big one—his third grand slam of the year and 22nd homer, and fourth hit of the night.

Winner Claude Raymond and three other Milwaukee pitchers allowed 13 hits.

The Pirates, holding third place 3½ games behind the Dodgers, played long ball in winning against Houston. Dick Stuart homered with Bob Skinner aboard in the first, Smoky Burgess connected after a walk to Stuart and a single by Clemente in the third, and Skinner homered with the bases empty in the sixth.

Al McBean went all the way for the Pirates. Houston starter Jim Golden was the loser.

The Reds exploded with a vengeance in their ninth inning-rally that routed the Cubs, pouring across four runs on Don Blasingame's triple, a double by Robinson, Vada Pinson's single and Leo Cardenas' triple which came after an intentional walk to John Edwards. Robinson, on a 14-game hitting streak, has banged out 12 hits in his last 17 at bats, with 11 runs batted in and 11 scored.

Joey Jay won his 12th for Cincinnati with a six-hitter. He was whacked for two-run homers by Billy Williams and Andre Rodgers.

Lagunitas Wins Six Net Singles

The Lagunitas Club won all six singles matches and one of three doubles matches against the Rafael Racquet Club Wednesday in junior Davis Cup tennis competition.

The results were:

Singles — (Won by Lagunitas) Ian Dibblee beat John Strasenburg 10-5; Harry Johnson defeated Don Detrick 10-4; John Zwieg defeated Jim Pressley 10-1; Tom Dibblee defeated Peter Youtz 10-7; Pete Pervere defeatd Gorge Lindahl 10-0; Ward Johnson defeated Tom Strathairn 10-0.

Doubles — Jack Lindahl and Mitch Fink of the Racquet Club defeated Brace Hayden and Henry Holter 10-6; Craig Scott and John Kaufman of the Racquet Club defeated Pete Newton and Steve Lewis 10-8; Tom Dibblee and Eustis Hill of the Lagunitas Club defeated Dave Strathairn and Tom Sather 13-11.

Russ Track Team To Arrive Tonight For Big U.S. Duel

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Russian track and field team that will challenge the United States in the finest dual meet of the season arrives tonight for a week of secret preparation.

The Soviet men and women athletes are scheduled to fly by U. S. commercial jetliner from New York.

After a brief greeting, the 73-member party, including coaches and trainers, will go to its dormitory headquarters at Stanford University, about 30 miles south of San Francisco International Airport. All their workouts will be held in private.

Mysterious Recovery Of Koufax; Same Could Happen To McCormick

CONNOLLY

When Sandy Koufax was mowing down the San Francisco Giants with alarming regularity last Sunday, the word was passed around the press box that the ace Dodger southpaw was working with a sore hand that prevented him from throwing a good curve.

So maybe Manager Alvin Dark should swing a bat at the meat hooks of his hurlers before they start. They should be so effective.

Earlier in the season, Sandy was having his problems in getting the side out. His fast ball wasn't fast, and his curve wasn't curving. Until the Giants moved into the southland for their first series with the Dodgers.

Koufax won his game with the Giants, and you wondered how anyone could ever beat him. After the game, Sandy was as happy as a kid who has been accidentally locked in a candy store after closing time.

"I don't know what happened," said Sandy. "For the first time this year my delivery felt smooth and the ball started to move. It had me worried. I only hope it stays with me."

IT DID. Only better. Including a no-hit no-runner and another win over the Giants.

All of which only serves to point up the fine line between a winning and a losing pitcher in major league competition. The same thing should happen to Mike McCormick. And it could.

There must be a guardian angel who takes care of baseball clubs, owners and fans. Imagine what would happen if the Giants, f'instance, had come up with Juan Marichal, Don Drysdale, Sandy Koufax and Bob Purkey as their pitching staff this year. Even local fans would soon tire of the runaway race that would result.

AS A MATTER of fact, there was a time a year or two ago when any kind of a decent offer might have separated Don Drysdale from the Dodgers. Drysdale was very unhappy pitching in the L.A. Coliseum with its short left field screen. And when Don is unhappy, everyone around him knows it.

Stories of Drysdale's effect on Executive Vice President "Buzzy" Bavasi of the Dodgers are numerous. It is reported that, one day, Buzzy rang the Drysdale doorbell for several minutes before Don's very beautiful wife finally came to the door.

"I'm so sorry to keep you waiting, Mr. Bavasi," said Mrs. D. "I was busy taking care of the baby."

"Which one?" snorted Bavasi.

ON ANOTHER occasion, Bavasi told a friend of mine, "If you are out bowling and Drysdale is in the next alley, keep your eyes open or you are liable to be mowed down by a wild pitch."

Drysdale was generally disliked by players, fans, and executives. But he could pitch. Don himself looked longingly at the much maligned expanses of Candlestick Park, but, fortunately for the Dodgers, they knew that the new park at Chavez Ravine would bring winning ways and winning days to their hot property.

BASEBALL IS known as a game of inches, and one of the most important inches is on the piece of paper on which some to-be-great young pitcher signs his contract.

This is what the Giants and rookie Bob Garibaldi had in mind when they did business. The Giant brass gambled on a winner, and Garibaldi gambled on the big sticks in the lineup to get him the runs he will need to succeed.

We fans can only sit and wait. And hope.

Title Go Tonight

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) —Hard hitting Emile Griffith of New York remained the favorite to retain his world welterweight championship tonight against elusive Ralph Dupas of New Orleans.

The 15-round match, which will not be carried by radio nor television, will be fought in the Las Vegas Convention Center.

Griffith, 23-year-old native of the Virgin Islands, was listed at 2-5 in the betting odds to turn back the challenge of his 26-year-old opponent. Dupas is ranked as the No. 1 contender.

Emile regained the championship last March 24 in New York when he knocked out Benny "Kid" Paret in the 12th round. Ten days later the Cuban kid died.

In contrast to previous title matches here, chairman James Deskins of the Nevada State Athletic Commission said the mandatory eight-count and three knockdown rules will be in effect.

This means a fighter floored must be given at least eight counts and if a fighter is dropped three times in a single round the match will be stopped.

Dupas has been a professional for 12 years. He has had 115 bouts, won 94, lost 15 and drew in six.

Griffith has had only 32 ring engagements and is a far more explosive performer. Of his 29 wins, 11 were by knockouts.

M.V. CITY PLAYOFF ON KTIM RADIO

Radio KTIM will broadcast the Mill Valley city championship playoff in Little League beginning at 2 p.m. tomorrow. Karl Barron and Ron Denman will do the play-by play.

The game will match the Lions, champions of the National League with a 15-5 season record, against the Tigers of the American League who won their title with a 10-8 mark.

Candlestick Problems Continue To Pile Up

San Francisco Giant owner Horace Stoneham had a busy day yesterday. He complained to the city about the condition of Candlestick Park and then was threatened with a four-million dollar lawsuit by an irate fan.

Stoneham submitted a seven-point report to banker Alan K. Browne, president of Stadium, Inc., the non-profit corporation which manages the stadium.

Stoneham included a letter from James P. George, industrialist who keeps two boxes at the stadium.

George's letter complained of splinters and said Stoneham should sandpaper the seats and paint them. Stoneham wrote that he had investigated and agreed that the seats have fallen into disrepair and need two coats of paint.

Stoneham also included several gripes of his own. He said the roof of the $200,000 scoreboard leaks and the scoreboard itself needs a paint job. He complained of a lack of hot water in the clubhouse and said that the stadium's 24 rest rooms should have doors.

Browne forwarded the complaint to Mayor George Christopher, who said he would meet with Stoneham soon.

The Giant owner received a letter from local attorney Nathan Cohn, who said that he was "manhandled and assaulted" by a private policeman while in a ticket line outside the park. He threatened suit unless such practices were halted.

Cohn, adding that he was "shouted and screamed at" by the police, said that he would use the four million dollars to buy the club and donate it to the city, providing he won the case.

Young Girl Golfs 78 At Marin

Janis Ferraris, 15-year-old women's city champion from San Francisco, took low gross honors yesterday at Marin Golf Club's guest day with a 78.

The 18-hole round, with her five-stroke handicap, gave the young champion a net 73.

Low net honors went to Mrs. June Cohan with a 97-28—69. The hole-in-one tourney was won by Mrs. Jane Forrester who missed the cup by only five feet.

Results of the day were:

Class A—Mrs. William May, Indian Valley, 85-12—73; Mrs. Henry Shapiro, Lake Merced, 87-11—76; Mrs. Fred Apostoli, 85-8—77.

Class B—Tie Mrs. P. A. Quigley, 94-22—72, and Mrs. John Weltman, 93-21—72; Mrs. Leon Balshone, 95-20—75; Tie Mrs. Robert Peterzon, 95-19—76, and Mrs. Gordon Wardlaw, 97-21—76.

Class C—Mrs. Harry Walloch, Lake Merced, 98-25—73; Tie Mrs. Roy Ryan, Presidio, 101-25—76, and Mrs. A. O. Wilson, 102-26—76; tie Mrs. William Wieland, 103-26—77 and Mrs. Marion Crinella, Santa Rosa, 101-23—77.

MEADOW CLUB results in match vs. par play were:

Class A—Mrs. T. N. Brown 1 up; Mrs. John Cann even; Mrs. Renaldo Belli even; Mrs. R. Setrakian 1 down.

Class B—Mrs. E. A. Ostaggi 4 up; Mrs. N. L. Ackley 2 up; Mrs. H. N. Pharis 1 up; Mrs. John Allen 1 down.

Class C—Mrs. Jack Cooper even; Mrs. Porter Forcade 1 down; Mrs. Niels Schultz Jr. 3 down; Mrs. E. R. Bunting 3 down.

Thomas Ready For Linebacker Job

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —John Thomas, the hoped-for solution to San Francisco 49er linebacking problems, has signed his 1962 contract.

The 6-foot-4, 250-pounder, after four years at offensive tackle, moves to middle linebacker this year in a bid by Coach Red Hickey to strengthen a perennial 49er weak spot.

Colonel Joe Is Defeated

PEBBLE BEACH (AP)—Medalist Johnny Lotz rallied to win three straight holes yesterday to drop Lt. Col. Joe Worthington, commander of the 78th Airbase Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base, from the California Amateur Golf Tournament.

Lotz won the match 3 and 2, finishing the 16 holes one stroke over par.

Possibility of the first one-family final in the 51-year history of the tournament loomed today as medalist Lotz and his kid brother Dick swept into the third round.

By nightfall only four will remain in contention for the 1962 crown as two 18-hole rounds were scheduled over the rugged Pebble Beach course.

Johnny Lotz found himself one down to Col. Worthington, a World War II pilot who had won the Texas State Amateur championship in 1939 before his collegiate opponent was born.

But Lotz evened the match at the 12th when Worthington hit his tee shot into the rough and held even at the 13th with a crucial six-foot putt that dropped. He scored a birdie at the 14th with a chip shot within two inches of the cup and captured the next two when Worthington hit traps.

Dick, the 19-year-old who enters Houston University this fall, also shot 16 holes and did it in even par to eliminate Dick Giddings of Modesto by the same 3 and 2 count.

THEY'RE OFF! — Oakland's Grand Prix Sports Car races will look much like this at the start of the main event tomorrow and Sunday. This shows all the modified cars in classes C, D, E, F and G at the start of the main event at Laguna Seca last month.

Oakland's Grand Prix Tomorrow

The Oakland Grand Prix Sports Car Races, to be held this weekend at the Oakland Airport have the largest entry of any races ever held in this area, including the recent Laguna Seca event, SCCA has informed the Oakland sponsors of the Grand Prix.

The entry includes 261 cars plus 40 Grand Prix motorcycles and insures a busy race schedule on both Saturday and Sunday.

A late entry in the Grand Prix is Bill Sturgis of Gardnerville, Nevada, who will drive his brand new $17,000 Cooper Monaco in the main event. Although this is the first time out for this car race experts have tagged it as a dark horse that could take the checkered flag on Sunday.

Two other recently announced entries are Frank Crane, Burlingame and Stan Petersen, Hayward, both of whom will be driving very fast Buick-powered Lotuses.

POTENT LINEUP

In addition to all this machinery, the starting grid will include the almost unbelievable lineup of three Birdcage Maseratis, two Ferraris, three XKE Jaguars, a C-type Jaguar that was a factory team car at Le Mans, a Porsche Spyder driven by Oakland's Carl Block, and assorted Formula Juniors.

The races are being sponsored by the United Cerebral Palsy Assn. and all proceeds go to this charity.

Practice sessions for drivers will get under way Saturday at 9:30 a.m. and the first race will begin about 1:00 p.m.

Sunday's practice session will begin at 9:30 and the first race will start at about 11:30.

The race course for the Oakland Grand Prix is laid out on the runways of Oakland's new Jet Airport situated just west and south of the present airport.

Halibut Runs May Start Early; Salmon Trolling Gets Limits

STEVENS

Could be that the halibut runs will start a bit earlier this season than most other seasons. In a talk with Davis Campbell of the Golden Hind at Inverness Wednesday I learned that Carl Wilson and George Matthews each landed a 12-pounder in what is probably a hole south of the old Marconi installation.

Davis also reported few fishermen trying their luck, but one of the old timers, Roland Straight, landed four or five bass and George Matthews also succeeded in getting meat for the table—"All nice fish," said Davis, "to 15 and more pounds—not many salmon, but one party, strangers to my resort, did manage to hook and land a large one of over 30 pounds. Not much to report other than that, except, of course, the red-tailed perch are abundant and the kids and some grown ups are catching them from my pier."

SALMON TROLLING off Pedro Point continues with limits the rule. Not large fish but plentiful. On Monday, the Wilma H came to port with nine limits to 18 pounds (most of the fish are running much lighter); the Lucky Day docked with 11 limits to 20 pounds, and the Sea Horse unloaded 10 limits to 21 pounds. On Tuesday the Lucky Day had nine limits to 16 pounds, and the Privateer came in with 11 limits to 15 pounds, while the Wilma H displayed 10 limits to 10 pounds.

THE BASS trolling perked up in the area between Alcatraz and the bridge. The boat Troller boated 12 bass to 12 pounds on Tuesday morning and netted seven limits to 20 pounds on a second, late afternoon trip. The day before the Troller had seven limits to eight pounds. The fishermen used two and three-pound sinkers.

Bass trolling maintains its status quo on the Contra Costa side of the San Pablo Bay with the action being in the late evenings both above and below the Carquinez Bridge. The Millie Lenn accounted for nine limits to 13 pounds off Dillon's Point on Monday night and netted 21 bass to 10 pounds on Tuesday evening.

THE SURF CASTERS have had their ups and downs the past few days, and according to Gene Thompson of the Western Sport Shop, San Rafael, it's been mostly downs. It was really up—way up—at the Bolinas Channel Saturday night, but only a flurry, no action since. Ed Hamel and wife took four keepers (salmon) off Bodega Head and D. J. McLean had a limit, but the above anglers released many shakers.

Goodbye, good luck and go get 'em!

MEET THE 'TIGERS'

Novato's New Ball Club

Independent-Journal Sports

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Novato, the fast growing north Marin city, has also grown in the athletic field by forming a new semi-pro baseball team this year, the Novato Tigers.

The Tigers — sponsored chiefly by Nick Kobseff, proprietor of the Rancho Nicasio Restaurant and part-time Detroit Tiger scout — currently have an even three-win, three-loss record on the season.

Their next game will be Sunday at 1:30 p.m. against the San Mateo Silver Sox on the Novato High School baseball field. The Tigers are not a traveling squad as all their games are played on the Novato High School field.

Playing manager for the Novatans is Bill Kline, who played his college baseball for San Jose State as a pitcher before he was graduated in 1957. He also played semi-pro ball in Santa Clara.

FINANCIAL PROBLEM

Although the ball club is now independent, the main problem for the team to face if it is to remain active during the next few years is financial.

As Kline puts it, "We'll keep going if the financial end is taken care of." He indicated hope for future financial aid from Novato merchants.

About half the Tiger squad is from Novato, the other players ranging from San Rafael to Petaluma. The pitching staff is five strong, with four right handed hurlers and one lefty.

LONE SOUTHPAW

Gary Peterson is the lone southpaw twirler on the team and also can play the outfield. He's a Petaluma High graduate.

The right-handed hurlers include Frank Burch, a Marin Catholic graduate who can also feel at home in right field. The MCAL all-leaguer flipped a one-hitter during his last year at Marin Catholic.

Ron Grayson is a fast improving pitcher who was graduated from Novato High. Art Watkins is a San Rafael graduate who pitches and plays the outfield.

GRID STAR

Jack Sparrow, quarterback at University of Pacific and also baseball star there, is a right-handed hurler for the Tigers. Sparrow played his high school baseball at Novato High and helped the Hornets take a championship in 1959.

Kline mostly plays the outfield but occasionally can be called in for relief pitching.

The man with the big bat for the Novato team is Bob Illia, who plays either third base or left field. The Tomales High graduate was an all-leaguer while at Tomales High. Illia, who bats in the clean-up spot, has hit a home run and three triples this season and carries a .400 batting average.

Nick Willard, Tiger shortstop, led the MCAL with home runs as a sophomore last season at Novato High.

Bob Williams, third baseman, was a member of the championship Marin Catholic High School baseball team last year.

BIG HITTERS

Three big hitters on the Novato squad are George Bianchi, first baseman, and Brian Newell, a second sacker.

Bianchi is a Tomales High graduate who was named an all-leaguer. Colfer batted over .400 last year in Marin County Athletic League competition for Novato High. Newell is an experienced player off the Napa Junior College squad.

Jud Bird, Tiger centerfield, is a Novato High graduate who played on the champion 1959 baseball squad.

Two men who can each play the outfield or don the mask behind the plate are Stan Lathrop, a former Napa Junior College athlete, and Ned Mantua, a graduate of Tomales High School.

Raiders Open Training Camp

SANTA CRUZ (UPI) — Coach Marty Feldman welcomed 28 rookies and eight veterans to opening day of the Oakland Raiders training camp here.

The first workout was scheduled today after the players underwent physical checkups.

Among the vets checking in were a pair of pro quarterback veterans, Don Heinrich and M. C. Reynolds. Both were obtained during the winter in trade.

L.A. Rams Trade Wilson And Ryan

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Anegeles Rams have traded away fullback Tommy Wilson and quarterback Frank Ryan to the Cleveland Browns for defensive tackle Larry Stephens and two high draft choices for 1963.

The deal, announced late yesterday, came as no great surprise, since Wilson and Ryan were on the Rams' expendable list.

Ross Hospital Opening New Wing

HERE'S HOW TO DO IT—Therapist Judith Strout shows a young patient how to braid a belt in Ross General Hospital's new occupational therapy room. Hi-fi facilities are just visible on the left. There also are games, crafts, automatic washer and drier, hair washing basin, books, magazines and other facilities.

Treatment Of Mental Illness Purpose Of Unit

By CHAPIN A. DAY

Sunday at 2 p.m., Ross General Hospital will dedicate its new $200,000 psychiatric wing with a public ceremony and open a new era in treatment of mental illness in Marin County.

The hospital began a psychiatric service about two years ago in the belief mental problems could and should be treated in the same atmosphere as other physical ailments.

Under direction of Dr. John C. Siemens, administrator of the hospital, and Dr. J. M. Stubblebine, director of the psychiatric unit, the service grew until it needed its own quarters. The new hospital wing is the result.

Even this, however, was not designed as a separate facility, but rather just another service of the existing hospital. Patients are free, on occasion, to wander from one part of the hospital to another. Visitors are welcome in the psychiatric section under conditions similar to those in the rest of the hospital.

The new wing includes 24 beds, mostly in two-bed rooms.

Everything is wide open. Architect Jack Hermann of Kentfield designed the large reception and visiting room so that visitors' room, nurses' station and a little kitchen for patients' use connect as one room.

There are smaller conference rooms. There is a "quiet" room where patients can read or write undisturbed.

The occupational therapy facilities contain many things from books to an automatic washer and dryer, from games to a hair-washing basin. Patients rooms are all equipped with television and there is a separate TV room.

The wing, jutting out at right angles toward Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from the south end of the hospital, also includes outside facilities: a patio and terrace and an activities area where shuffleboard and tetherball will be available.

One of the features of the service is the group therapy program which Dr. Stubblebine conducts an hour a day for four days each week.

The head nurse is not only a psychiatric nurse but a teacher of psychiatric nursing as well. Two of the three psychiatric nurses in charge of the three daily shifts of nurses also are teachers.

A fulltime occupational therapist doubles as recreation director. And a half-time psychiatric social worker spends her time interviewing members of patients' families.

There are other dedicated workers, including an orderly who is a multi-linguist, a former concert pianist with an independent income who works as an orderly because he likes it.

Taxable Sales Total $39 Million

Taxable sales in Marin County totaled $39,914,000 during the first three months of 1962, a rise of 10.4 per cent over the same period last year.

The sales produced $1,197,420 in sales tax revenues.

All county's in the state showed record gains over last year, according to the state board of equalization.

"With employment at a record level in California, people had more money that ever before; they were spending it more freely, and at the same time they were making greater use of credit facilities," a board spokesman said.

Program For Retarded Set Back By Difficulty In Getting Help

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Difficulty in recruiting help combined with money troubles has caused a delay of almost one year in a major state program for mentally retarded children.

The program involves centers in Los Angeles, Sacramento and San Diego. They are designed to furnish advice to the troubled families of youngsters on the long waiting list for the three hospitals for the retarded.

If possible, the centers will show parents of some children how hospitalization can be avoided, thus making a small dent in the 2,200 person list.

Dr. Edward Rudin, deputy director of mental hygiene in charge of community services, said financial problems and a great difficulty in recruiting doctors and social workers are responsible.

Conceived in the closing days of the 1961 legislature as part of a 1.1-million-dollar package for the retarded, the centers were supposed to open in July of that year. Each was allocated $50,000.

But at the end of June, Rudin said, the Brown administration became worried over whether revenues would match spending.

A slowdown in spending was ordered throughout the government and, he said, the department delayed hiring personnel for the centers until October, 1961.

Two Marin Artists Win Fair Prizes

Two Marin County artists won top prizes in photography at the Sonoma-Marin Fair, which will continue through the weekend in Petaluma.

First and second prizes in black and white prints went to F. M. Anthony of Larkspur, for "Ignacio in Fog," and Brooks Dutt of Fairfax, for his "Lichen."

In colored slide competition, Anthony took a second and a third for "Surf Fisher" and "Table Top No. 3."

Judges were John Staricco from Alameda, John Beranek from San Francisco, and Col. James Ross from San Francisco.

Olive Verna Rogers of Greenbrae served as one of the judges in the arts division.

'Now I Feel I Can Live Dangerously'

At 70 Marinite Hikes, Builds, Travels

Bq MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Roberta Winans of Mill Valley is the person to consult if you're past 70 and alone but want to see the world on a low budget.

She has just returned from a six-months' tour by freighter that covered points on the Mediterranean, Jerusalem, Jordan, Lebanon, Turkey, Egypt, Israel and some of the world's trouble spots, such as Oran, Algeria.

"I've lived my three score years and 10," she said, "and now I feel I can live dangerously." Not that she hasn't lived dangerously before, for she has traveled previously under courage-testing circumstances, he continued. "Anyone who has traveled in the Orient alone on a low budget and been sick in a country (Cambodia) that had no really qualified doctors, develops self confidence to deal with anything."

Even at home Miss Winans leads a rather rugged life, for she is a member of the Sierra Club and does a great deal of hiking and car camping.

"My doctor wants me to limit my walking to 10 miles a day," she said, "but I've done as many as 13 in Europe and even climbed mountains." One interesting experience on her recent trip was climbing to the top of the castle at St. Hilarion in Limassel, Cyprus, where Disney filmed "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

Then there is the remarkable fact that over a period of 10 years she has built all of the walls, containing 175 tons of rock, in her terraced garden behind her home, carrying each one up from street level.

"The only one I had a man build," she laughed, "fell down and I had to do it over myself."

Especially interesting were her tips on how to travel alone, carefree, without much money.

Needless to say, good health is a must. Then she advises a checkup to determine response to penicillin, which often is a life-saver.

Most important, she suggests, is the help of a good travel agent, especially in helping to save money, though she doesn't believe in budgeting an entire trip.

"My transportation on the freighter was the only thing I paid for in advance," she explained, "because too definite an itinerary isn't flexible enough to provide for the unexpected. And I find one thing that relieves me of a lot of worry is what I call my 'mistake money', and that's the first thing I budget. If you're 70 you are bound to forget things and lose things, and my 'mistake money' covers these situations. Also for peace of mind it's important to have theft insurance."

One of the best ways to save money, she finds, is using public transportation — buses, street cars, railroad trains, boats and even taxis.

"You can buy one seat in a taxi," she said, "and it's possible to go through as many as three countries on a single taxi ride. The biggest bargain anywhere outside the United States today is public transportation."

As for language barriers, for her they mean nothing. She manages very well by pointing, gesticulating, drawing pictures and smiling. The one term she learns in the language of a country she is visiting is "Thank you."

"Don't be afraid to ask questions," she says. "People are only too eager to help, and the more problems you have, the more people there will be to want to help you."

One tip she didn't mention, but that one suspects is of inestimable value for her, is a keen sense of humor.

Miss Winans doesn't travel to get away from home. She's always glad to come back to the house she has owned for 19 years at 111 Cornelia Avenue.

"Mill Valley is never a letdown to come back to, no matter where you've been," she declared.

Her next project is getting another couple of tons of rock to finish those rock walls.

A native of New Jersey, Roberta Winans lived many years in New York City, and she was a state supervisor in nursery schools and parent education in New York state. During World War II she developed nursery schools in Vallejo with an enrollment of 600 children.

Then she did child welfare service 10 years in the Marin County Welfare Department, and after she retired from that position, worked with the San Francisco committee for service to emigres.

She holds a bachelor of arts degree in social science from San Diego State College, a master's degree from Columbia University in New York in adult education, and has done graduate work at Northwestern University, the University of Chicago and the University of California.

"I took socialogy," she explained, "because I thought a social worker should know whether she is doing more harm than good. It can be a do-good approach, whereas I believe social work should be educational."

Miss Winans is now retired and travels about half the time.

ROBERTA WINANS IS the person to consult if you're past 70 and alone but want to see the world on a low budget. She is shown with two favorite figurines, hand carved from 2000-year-old olive wood, which she bought in Majorca. On the desk is what she calls her "big extrovert woman," and she holds her "little old introvert man." (Independent-Journal photos)

MISS ROBERTA WINANS does some pruning in her Mill Valley garden against a background that shows just a small portion of the rock walls she has built herself over a period of 10 years. She has carried up from the street level each of the rocks in the 175 tons contained in the walls. The only wall she had a man build fell down, and "I had to do it over myself," she says with a laugh.

Summer Lunch Series To Open Wednesday At Center In Ross

Leading off the summer series of Northgate luncheons and shows at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross on Wednesday will be the Northgate Group itself, joined by the Marin Unit of the Junior League of San Francisco.

Members of both organizations will model the styles for the fashion show and will serve as waitresses for the al fresco luncheon. Mrs. H. Wallace Hickman will be the commentator for the show presented by Northgate fashion coordinator Mrs. Rudolf D. Lang.

SUMMER STYLES will be modeled by Mesdames Henry E. Skinner, Les Vogel Jr., Edgar T. Lindner, Theodore E. Theiss Jr., Alfred Castle, W. Robert Hanson, William J. Morris, William Byron Wallace, James Warren, Thomas W. Dorst, Leslie Smith and Christopher Rivers Jr.

Joining Marin Junior League members as waitresses will be Northgate volunteers, Mesdames Don Albertson, Francis Auger, James E. Barnes, Walter Beatie Jr., Jackson Bennett, Leonard Breslin, William J. Cassidy Jr., Robert O. Cole, Frank T. Dettner, Andrew Halley, Mert Hipsley, Ralston W. Hodgson, Allen Zeiss, Roger Kane, Newton Longfellow, Joshua MacDonald, Gus Neiderholzer, Norman O. Schwein, Kent O. Seymour, Henry Skinner, Winthrop P. Watrous, Rae Watts, Horace R. Williams, Roland Wilson and William F. Upton.

THE JUNIOR LEAGUE members will be Mesdames Bradford Koles, Robert Dawson Jr., Herbert Hanson Jr., Harvey Black, Robert Deibel, Roger Barbey, Neil Regin, Bayard Herrick, Richard Childs and Kirk Frederick.

Members of the Northgate Junior Group will conduct tours of the center and assist with seating for luncheon. After the luncheon and fashion show, which will begin at 12:30 p.m., guests may play bridge in the Caroline S. Livermore Room at the center. Punch will be served at noon before the luncheon.

Reservations for the luncheon are taken at the Marin Art and Garden Center, Mrs. Gordon Beesley, chairman.

THE SMOTHERED LOOK

Hats Gone About As Fur As They Can Go

By GAY PAULEY

"How 'fur' can you go?," punned the commentator at the Millinery Industry's style show as a trapper's paradise of pelts paraded past.

In fur hats, the designers have gone pretty far for fall and winter. Fur is heaped on fur, with long haired pelts such as opossum and lynx adding to the smothered look. Some of the fur hats are so muffling about all you can see of the wearer's face is nose and chin.

Other furs shaped into snoods, helmets or Garbo slouches include mink in all the mutations, fox, unshorn lamb, leopard and chinchilla.

To add to the bundled-up look are neck warmers or boas of matching fur. One designer participating in this week's millinery show did some chin warmers and hats in amber-dyed opossum, with the rims of the hats detachable to serve as separate fur pieces.

The show is part of the semi-annual "Press Week" sponsored for visiting fashion reporters by the New York couture group of ready-to-wear manufacturers. The millinery group is an auxiliary member.

The milliners mean for warmth to be fashionable in ways other than with fur hats. Jersey or other wools act as attached scarves to tie helmet or hunting cap shapes securely under the chin. Or, chiffon scarves muffle the throat for evening wear.

Hat shapes ranged the field, with more than the usual number of casual slouch shapes shown for daytime wear. But some slouches were for evening too. (UPI)

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

'Yum Yum Tree' Star Is A Resident Of Belvedere

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Russell Nype, star of the play, "Under the Yum Yum Tree" and his wife have rented the Hopkins home in Belvedere until the middle of September. The Nypes, who own a home in New York, have their son, Russell Jr. with them. The other two children, Melanie and Richard, are at a camp in Maine.

"Under the Yum Yum Tree," written by Lawrence Roman and directed by Bernard Wiesen, is playing at the plush new playhouse On Broadway on San Francisco's Nob Hill. On Broadway is a delightful setting for the lively comedy. The theater has red carpeting and red walls and is lighted by large crystal chandeliers. Refreshments are served to the seated audience during intermissions. "Under the Yum Yum Tree" ran on Broadway in New York for six months.

Russell Nype began his acting career by co-starring with Ethel Merman in "Call Me Madam." In Russell's latest Broadway play he co-starred in "Goldilocks." He has starred in three other plays in San Francisco: "Tender Trap," "Anniversary Waltz" and "Tunnel of Love."

TO CELEBRATE their golden wedding Frank and Anna Linebaugh are flying to Honolulu July 21 to stay at the Royal Hawaiian for two weeks. The wedding anniversary will be July 22. The Linebaughs (she is the former Anna Eberle) were married at St. Boniface's Church in San Francisco and have lived in San Rafael all their married life until the first of the year when Frank retired and he and Anna moved to the home they had bought in San Anselmo. Frank had lived in San Rafael since 1897 and Anna since 1906. The Linebaughs have a daughter, Mrs. Paul Ford of San Rafael and two grandchildren, Jerry and Russell Ford.

BISHOP JAMES PIKE and his wife will be honor guests at the luncheon Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Noah are giving Sunday at their Belvedere home. Bishop Pike is conducting services at St. Stephen's Church in Belvedere while the rector, the Rev. Llewellyn White, and his family are vacationing. The bishop and his wife are staying at the Whites' home. The Noahs have invited to the luncheon friends from all parts of the county who want to meet the Episcopal bishop and his wife.

IT'S BEEN nothing but one vacation after another for Mr. and Mrs. E. R. McWilliams of Greenbrae. First Markie McWilliams took her father, William Von Husen of San Rafael on the annual trip to Lake Tahoe and Reno. Then Markie and her husband vacationed at Kit Carson Lodge on Silver Lake, high in the Sierra. They had some wonderful trout fishing and enjoyed the scenery at the elevation of 7500 feet. Mr. and Mrs. McWilliams were only home a few days before they headed south to visit their son, Thomas McWilliams and his wife, the former Nancy Bellows, at their home in San Fernando Valley, and their three grandchildren, Debbie, 5, John, 7, and the baby, Todd McWilliams, who was only three weeks old.

Mr. and Mrs. McWilliams have taken a house at Elk's Point on Lake Tahoe and joining them there will be their son Tom, and Debbie and John. Nancy with the baby will go to Tucson, Ariz. to visit her parents.

Markie says her sister, Mrs. Edward Liston (Anita Von Husen) and her husband, Doctor Liston, who is president of the Palo Alto Clinic, which has 90 doctors, have to do much traveling as he is much in demand as a speaker and lecturer. Last week he was on a television panel. The Listons have a beautiful home in Los Altos Hills.

MRS. EDWARD STEPHENS will be the guest of honor at a luncheon July 25 to be given by Mrs. John R. Moore and Mrs. Ronald Simpson of Belvedere. Mr. and Mrs. Stephens, who have four children, Susan, Sandra, Edward Jr. and Christopher, have returned to Belvedere after an absence of three years. They had been living in Southern California. Ed is the son of Mrs. George C. Stephens of Kiel Cove, Tiburon.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN G. ZIEL have issued invitations to a luncheon they are giving Aug. 4 at their ranch in Nicasio. They also have a home in San Francisco.

Visiting In Marin

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Salander and their sons, Thomas and Richard, are spending the summer with Mrs. Salander's father, Glen Tarwater of Fairfax. The family will return to their home in Oswego, N.Y. at the end of August.

Child's Readiness To Learn To Read Is Key To Teaching

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

The teaching of reading has many implications for school and home. Some parents are confused by the many theories, criticisms, and comparisons of the subject.

Obviously, reading is the most important academic area since it is basic to all knowledge. Based upon this fact, schools concentrate on reading during the primary grades. An emphasis on learning to read is needed before a student can make extensive advances in most other areas.

COMPARISONS WITH Russian or European methods actually have few implications for us in that our language is quite different. An analysis of English will show a need for mastery of a variety of skills. A pure phonics approach is as inadequate as a total sight approach. We must be prepared to teach reading by many methods.

In addition to the irregularity of our language, we have the irregularity of learning. Readiness is constantly referred to when reading is discussed. A child's readiness to read depends upon his physical development (eyes, ears), motivation, experiences, and emotional development. Naturally, the combination of these items cannot be expected to develop at the same speed in each individual.

The broad area covered by the actual learning of reading means that much more than mechanical teaching is necessary. Of course, there are many intricacies of teaching for which much training and experience is needed. This does not mean that good common sense and understanding, on the part of parents, will not aid the situation.

IN THE PRE-SCHOOL years, the parent can create an atmosphere and plan experiences which will lead to readiness. Listening and discrimination through hearing and seeing are important. How can these skills be developed? Most children enjoy hearing adults read. They develop interest as they listen and participate. How? Inject questions such as: And what do you think will happen next? Motivate the stories with expression and interest.

Along with the development of skills, your child should also develop motivation. As he has more exciting experiences with books he will want to delve further. Relate actual events and desires to books. Your reading and his should be shared.

Create an atmosphere of respect toward books and the child's reading time. Give him a section of a bookshelf for his own books. Don't interrupt him when he is reading. Provide a quiet place where he can get lost in the world of books.

ABOVE ALL, do not create a feeling of pressure. Avoid comparing his accomplishments with classmates or other members of the family.

Reading is an integral part of learning. Take advantage of the child's interests. Encourage reading but avoid pressure. Do not discourage a narrow concentration of reading but build upon this interest. Variety will develop as the child's curiosity and scope of experience grows. The major aim should be to develop a respect and knowledge of the fascinating world which can be unlocked through books.

THIS MODEL wears a dress of cut velvet with sable —a fitted theatre costume for the fall 1962 collection of Countess Alexander. Colored in beige, soft green, and brown, the costume combines a full-skirted, sleeveless dress and a side-tied jacket defining the waistline. An Emme hat tops off the creation. (UPI Telephoto)

THE THREE-quarter coat, which is sometimes a tunic in fashions for this fall, gets the straight line treatment by Marquise. The coat and skirt here are made of heavy ginger tweed. The slim skirt is topped by a brown plaid blouse matching the coat lining frabic. The pillbox hat is also of the wool tweed fabric.

Tree-Climbing Jeans Wearer Is Normal Changeable Adolescent

Do you know this gal?

Daytimes she wears jeans and a T-shirt. She plays baseball, climbs trees and whirls on the turning bar. She goes so high in the swing your heart stands still. Come evening, she don's frilly dresses. She'd wear high heels, too, if her mama would let her.

She listens to the noisiest radio station on the dial. She has a passion for at least one frantic-voiced disc jockey. She thinks Elvis Presley is an old man. But Chubby Checker! Ah, Chubby Checker!

She has strong muscles, but they don't show. She's growing fast. She acts like a tomboy, but is beginning to think like a woman. Confusing, isn't she?

She adores movie love stories. Kids' matinees are unthinkable now. She scorns the TV westerns, but worships Ben Casey. She plasters the wall of her bedroom with pictures of her idols.

She obeys, reluctantly. She puts on makeup when nobody is around to see her. The results are ghastly. She wants to have dates, go steady and be grown-up. She has a crush on a boy half her size. She enjoys phoning him, and would talk for hours if it were permitted. She loves her parents dearly, even though she is beginning to think they're old fuddies.

You recognize her, of course? She's your daughter or mine. She's a wonderful, normal, changeable American girl entering her adolescence. She is 11, 12 or 13, and growing fast. I love her, don't you?

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "My girl is 14. She insists she is old enough to go steady. None of the other girls in her crowd have dates. Should I let her?"

Mrs. L.

(A) No, you should not. Don't let her be the first in her gang to have dates. Don't force her to be the last one. When the time comes, make sure she goes only with reliable, responsible boys. Sixteen is young enough for regular dating.

Latin Ladies: Less Latitude

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP)—Latin American women do not have as much opportunity to enter the business world as women in the United States. But when they do get into business, they usually make as much money as their male coworkers.

This is the opinion of two Latin American women journalists, Miss Melida Ruth Sepulveda, editor of international and Sunday sections of El Panama America in Panama City, and Mrs. Blanca Luzde Rodriguez, women's editor of El Imparcial in Guatemala City. They came here on part of a U.S. State Department tour.

South American women have an even tougher time getting into business than women in Central America, they agree.

"There are still many totalitarian fathers in some South American countries who do not let their daughters get an education or try a business," Miss Sepulveda says.

But times are changing, she adds. "No longer is it enough to stay in the home. Now we need to take part in community affairs."

St. Raphael's Court Installs

Mrs. Ellen Saultry has been installed grand regent of Court St. Raphael 1406, Catholic Daughters of America, for the year.

Other officers who will serve with her are Mesdames Victoria Schweighofer, vice grand regent; Anita Bertolozzi, prophetess; Charles Johnson, financial secretary; Rose Marie Webb, historian; Celeste Augusto, treasurer; Nora Marie Perse, monitor; Eudora Codoni, sentinel; Margaret Haron, lecturer, and Margaret Schwager and Genevieve Berreyesa, trustees.

Terra Linda Teacher Weds

St. Peter's Chapel on Mare Island was the setting Saturday of the wedding of Clare Hasenpusch of Vallejo and Lt. Richard A. Daum of Monterey.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hasenpusch of Vallejo, was graduated from Dominican College and taught last year at the Bernard Hoffman School in Terra Linda.

The Rev. R. E. Gately officiated for the noon double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Bianchi gown of silk organza and Venetian lace.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Donald Matle of Vallejo, as matron of honor; and bridesmaids, Mrs. Richard Wittman of Vallejo and the Misses Barbara Albertazzi of Napa, Patricia McDermott of Albany and Beth Schnizler of San Francisco, wore delphinium blue sheaths with organza overskirts.

The bridegroom's brother, Lt. Cmdr. Theodore Daum of San Rafael, acted as best man.

Ushers included Lt. Cmdr. Darell Kirkpatrick and Lieutenants Paul McCarthy, Albert Perrella and Paul Pfieffer, all of Monterey.

A reception followed the ceremony, in the Mare Island Officers' Club.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Guibert of Butler, Pa., attended Pennsylvania State University and is now attending the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School in Monterey.

Following a wedding trip to Southern California, the newlyweds will reside in Monterey.

People Who Leave Money To Animals, Sound In Mind

NEW YORK (AP) — Relatives' opinions to the contrary, people who leave their money to cats, dogs, canaries and goldfish are perfectly sound in mind.

They know from experience that with all the status items in pet shops these days it can cost a pretty penny to maintain a pet in the luxury in which it might have become accustomed.

Take the not-so-poor fish who lives in a glass bowl.

Part of his equipment includes a brush designed especially to scratch his back. He also has sea trees, a colony of sea horses, colored sand and flower glowing crystals to make the aquarium a homier place.

His delicacies are served on his own lazy susan. And, if his appetite is jaded, chances are a pet shop operator will rush over a container of live baby shrimp, roe, or worms.

Although the modern status fish does not have the advantages of a psychiatrist's couch, he does have tranquilizers for his neuroses. And there is a sitter service that will send someone around to talk to the sad fish to keep him from feeling rejected while owners are away.

And everybody knows about a dog's life, and a cat's too, when there's money in the family. They live in elaborate houses, and maintain opulent wardrobes. A champagne colored poodle may require a mink to match, or costume jewelry just like her owner's.

Just as boots are smart for the distaff homo sapiens, dry paws are the thing for four legged animals. These are white plastic boots with contrasting trim on which a mink cuff can be added. The most chic animal also has her own leather luggage to match the master's.

There are also hearing aids for deaf animals, and collars with battery lamps for dogs afraid of the dark. One business establishment does nothing but design custom made beds. There are four-posters that cost up to $200, catnip rugs, and cedar mattresses. Electric blankets and electric pillows are made for cats and dogs, and canaries as well.

A MAN'S INFLUENCE

The crisp, man-tailored look of the 30's will be popular this fall as Arthur Jablow fashion house demonstrated with this coat costume. The short red wool coat tops an extra long blue corduroy blouse dotted by double rows of brass buttons, and a slim red wool skirt. The jaunty stovepipe hat is by Emme.

Hemline News—Status Quo

By JOY MILLER

Put away that needle and thread, Mabel. Your hemline is safe where it is for another season.

Actually, the skirt length's status quo has never been in jeopardy at the fall showings of the New York Couture Group, now halfway through a weeklong parade for the nation's fashion press. Designers all along pretty much agreed on ending matters just below the knee.

What about a dominant silhouette?

Nothing very startling is emerging—it's just more of the same easy, good-natured style of clothes you're wearing now. Most designers seem content to hone their favorite, familiar shapes and give shoppers a wide range to choose from.

THANKS TO the First Lady's trip to India and Pakistan, the Far Eastern atmosphere so far this week has been so thick you could cut it with a bolo knife.

Wednesday afternoon there was a brief respite, with only Jacques Tiffeau's dome-shaped turban named Taj Mahal and Donald Brooks' harem-pants-skirted panung evening dresses evoking exotic images. That is, if you overlook Ceil Chapman's Byzantine binge, which, technically, concerns the middle — not Far East anyway.

Young Brooks, who has some of his works hanging in White House closets, pushed the shift into high gear for his Townley collection. The shift, which some lowbrows call the sack, is his pet profile, loose and unfitted. Occasionally, though, he'd insert a darted midriff for shaping, or box pleat a skirt, or break up a smooth expanse of fabric from neck to hem with scrolled, self-appliqued bandings at waist or hipline.

His coats were slim skimmers or double - breasted steamers. He used a lot of jersey. His chief colors were a creamy snow, jade, a strong pink called rouge, and a paler pink called quartz.

BROOKS PUT sleeves in a few evening dresses — and so did Tiffeau in the Monte-Sano and Pruzan collection that followed. In the Monte-Sano suits, sleeves were mostly back to the old wrist-length, but dresses, and especially over-blouses, were frequently sleeveless. To ward off pneumonia, they came equipped with elegant coats of double-faced mohair.

Tiffeau's look for fall put bulk at the top, softness in the shoulders, slimness in the skirt. The favorite combination was probably the sleeveless overblouse dress — often with the blouse narrowed and buttoned down the front—and matching coat.

CEIL CHAPMAN stuck to her familiar last—superbly draped, figure-hugging, glittery confections. For a theme, she traded in last season's shopworn Cleopatra for the Byzantine beauty, Theodora, a courtesan who married Emperor Justinian. The Byzantine influence showed in embroidered, jeweled borders and waistbands, shimmering metal brocades, Byzantine halo hats, and lavishly sequined gilt dresses.

But mingling with 4th-12th century fashions was her up-to-the-minute missile shape, a slim columnar shaft ending with tail-fin flare at the knee. (AP)

Days Of Heraldry Being Kept Alive

PENNINGTON, N.J. (AP)—The days of old when knights were bold are being kept alive in this central Jersey community by Alice Blackwell Lewis, a modern housewife with a yen for things historic.

Mrs. Lewis is engaged in the ancient art of heraldry. More and more people are becoming ancestor-conscious and interested in their family trees, says Mrs. Lewis. She draws, paints, stencils and molds family coats of arms on wooden plaques, sheepskin, needlepoint, ceramics or art papers. In the last 30 years, she has made more than 1,000 coats of arms for persons all over the country.

It's Not Professional For Doctors To Strike Either

Not long ago in this space we criticized the California Teachers Association for evoking "sanctions" against school districts as not being a professional act. The C.T.A. answered that the public has become used to professionals striking and cited doctors striking against hospitals as one example.

We rejected this example as not representing the belief of the public and expressed abhorrence of the strike threat as a weapon on the part of either doctors or school teachers.

The strike of the Saskatchewan doctors has not changed our feeling one iota. In today's "What Our Readers Say" column is a letter from a Marin doctor expressing the position that the doctors are not striking, "simply manifesting their inherent right to withhold their labor when they consider work conditions intolerable."

What is a strike if it isn't the withholding of labor on a concentrated basis and by agreement? Obviously there is agreement among the medical profession in Saskatchewan; the agreement includes keeping 35 hopsitals open and operating for emergency cases. When any group of labor gets together and makes such an agreement, it is a strike.

And we reiterate, we do not believe the strike is a weapon which should be used by professionals.

The situation in Saskatchewan appears to us to be drastic and we sympathize with the doctors and hope they can defeat socialized medicine, a thing from which many of them ran in England.

But we do not agree with their method.

It would be intolerable, in our estimation, if the Hippocratic Oath were to be replaced on the doctors' walls with a statement of political belief. The oath does, and should, dedicate him as a professional servant of humanity, not a labor union member.

Overzealous Zuchinni

Few plants know to Marin gardens produce as abundantly as the famous Italian squash, zucchini. He is so overzealous in the production of his tasty fruits that Marin gardeners often have difficulty giving the extras away.

This wonderful Italian vegetable has an amazing multitude of uses — from omelet to casserole. The wild variety of recipes is simply fabulous.

Zucchinis aren't the rarest of Nature's garden gifts, but in the hands of a capable cook this versatile vegetable can scarcely be beat for a taste treat.

WILLS LIFE SAVINGS TO GOVERNMENT

One man is leaving his entire life savings of $14,000 to the U.S. government.

The 92-year-old Spanish-American war veteran, who lives frugally in a trailer in Florida, decided to repay his country for the $100 a month pension that he has been receiving.

The old man told startled bank officials, who helped him draw up his will, that he feels he should do this out of gratitude for what has been done for him.

"I want to will my savings to my beloved country," he said, "as an expression of appreciation for what my country has done for me."

While you may not remember Uncle Sam in your will, try to find ways of your own to prove that you prize the privilege of freedom that God wishes all men to enjoy.

You can, for instance, become a better informed citizen, vote at every election and focus attention on the accomplishments of government rather than overemphasize its weaknesses.

"Live as free men, yet not using your freedom as a cloak for malice but as servants of God." (1 Peter 2:16)

Thanks to You, O loving Father, for the precious blessing of freedom.

Jumping To Conclusion Or —How To Put Foot In Mouth

NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions — and how many do you agree with?:

Monogamy has been such a success in the modern world not so much because it is so moral—but because it is so practical. The Koran allows a man up to four wives at a time, but only an idiot would want to cope with four wives in a three-room apartment.

If you had to be a musical instrument instead of a human being, which would you prefer being? I've given this problem a lot of thought and, although I'm built more like a tuba or a bass drum, I'd choose the cello. To me it has more of a haunting quality than a violin.

Cows generally walk the same way home from pasture, but a man who always travels the same route home from work is in a real rut.

Many people today think it is a status symbol to brag about their stock market losses. If as much real cash had been dropped in Wall Street recently as you hear about at cocktail parties, this country would be in hock for three generations.

The best testament to the way God planned existence is the fact that at any given moment most people would not want in their hearts to be either younger or older. They'd rather live in the present—and let life unroll as it will.

I think it's every bit as sensible for a 25-year-old horse to wear a bikini as it is for a 40-year-old woman to wear a pony tail.

The nose has as long a memory as the eye or hand, and sometimes a more emotional kind of nostalgia for the events of our youth. The face of the girl for whom I bought a gardenia to wear at a college dance is getting vaguer to me 30 years later—but I can still smell the scent of that flower she wore at her bosom.

AFTER ALL I should: it cost me a whole dollar—a fifth of my month's spending money.

Divorce is a kind of living death, a paper tombstone. No intelligent man or woman—no matter how much each blames the other — can see their marriage wrecked on the rocks of disagreement without a sense of personal humiliation at failing in the greatest test of mutual human adventure.

WOMEN KEEP their kinship with nature longer than men do. An old man usually takes off his shoes only to rest his feet, but an old woman never loses the cooling sense of thrill she gets from stepping barefoot into a running brook.

It's best to take the rainbows as they come: even with the same palette, it's doubtful you could paint a better one.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Canada Doctors Not Striking

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

There is evidently a widespread feeling that the Saskatchewan doctors are "striking against the law of the land," and are therefore committing a criminal act.

Sober reflection, however, reveals that the provincial taxing powers have simply been utilized to legislate a fund from which medical services would be paid, available to all citizens. The compulsory aspect relates only to the general financing of the fund. No democracy can pass laws FORCING anyone to do a specified kind of job under conditions which he disapproves. If the Saskatchewan doctors were violating a law, they would be prosecuted under the criminal code. Obviously this has not occurred.

Right or wrong, these physicians are NOT "striking against the law of the land," but are simply manifesting their inherent right to withhold their labor when they consider work conditions intolerable. The Canadian Bill of Rights guarantees this freedom to all of Canada's citizens. Only slave states and dictatorships can chain a man to his job.

Not Everybody Loves Cats

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your editorial of Tuesday, June 26 on the budget session of the Board of Supervisors at which time Supervisor Peter Behr apparently in all seriousness suggested a legitimate source of revenue for the county, I think was very poorly handled by the Independent-Journal and ended in a ridiculous summation of fantastic comparisons.

I believe, as Mr. Behr does, that cats should be taxed and even more so than dogs. This is a subject which I have heard voiced more than once in Marin County not only for the revenue to be derived, but it would help to control and abate a menace and a nuisance.

A menace to our wildlife because only about 50 per cent of the people who own cats feed them consistently and because a cat will kill because of instinct. They hunt down our birds which includes our precious California quail which are fast diminishing along with other species of birds.

Cats invade every privacy known without restraint by their owners. They invade the haunts of and travel the same paths as the rat and can bring sickness and disease to little children and adults as well. They roam everybody's property and even find ways to attack cage birds which people may hang out for air and I have seen a cat spring from the top of a fence nearly six feet into the air and catch hold of a bird suspended from a clothes line and pull it to the ground.

They are put out of the house at night and sometimes spend the entire period of darkness fighting with each other making a racket that can be heard throughout an entire neighborhood.

A common contributor to the cat nuisance I have noted here are people who move away and leave their cats behind to fend for themselves. Others when their cats have kittens take the kittens away to another neighborhood and throw them out of their car. We have had two such cases where they were thrown over our fence onto our property.

A tax on cats will go a long way towards curbing these evils by reducing the number of cats to where only people who care for their cats will have them and the supervisors will not have to work round the clock, as you said.

Also pass an ordinance that no family be allowed to have more than one cat and all male cats be altered or the owner be subject to a fine. Breeders should pay a license fee and only be allowed one pair of cats.

As for who will put the bell around the cat's neck, I think they could be tagged with a band around the leg like a bird.

Just Another Political Plum

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your newspaper reported that President Kennedy nominated a San Francisco Republican, Stanley Weigel, for a federal judgeship.

During the presidential campaign, Kennedy promised the best possible judges with appointments made on the basis of merit (not polticis). The latest statistics I have (March 12) indicates Kennedy had made 111 new lifetime federal judge appointments—all Democrats — no Republicans. Seven of the appointees were rated as "unqualified" by the American Bar Association.

A news release on Weigel indicates he supported Kennedy in 1960 aand backed Democrat Brown for governor and Democrat Engle for senator in 1958. In the early 1950s he defended 21 professors of the University of California who refused to sign the Regents' Loyalty Oath. Among other "accomplishments," he served as state chairman of the United World Federalists.

In my way of thinking this appears to be another "political" appointment.

To Hold Back Civilization West Marin Needs Regulations It Despises

Once people crowd together in some promised land, they have a tendency to get a little uneasy and begin to make impossible demands.

This pushing and shoving begins to show up in the form of regulations and prohibitions and master plans. We seem to find it hard, when we've arrived in an ideal place, to keep hands off and let paradise run itself.

You don't have to sit in at many Marin County Planning Commission meetings before you will realize residents along the county's coast are pretty well convinced they have found an untouched corner of the world and resent any intrusion.

TALK OF subdivisions, freeways, gas stations, motels and other such invasions arouse long, impassioned speeches from West Marin folk who like their environment straight.

An uncluttered vista from Stinson Beach to Dillon Beach is the aim of those who dread the poison of so-called civilization. These people know they have to protect themselves against helter-skelter changes. They don't have to be told that, even in Utopia, the presence of people leads to some kind of control. Their special world is not by any means now what Sir Francis Drake saw some 400 years ago.

They must defend what's left.

THE PLAN for defense unfortunately has to be suggested by outsiders. Whether it's a stack of zoning ordinances for Bolinas or a Point Reyes National Seashore, these happy people are nearly helpless to man the barricades themselves and initiate such protection.

This is not good.

They reluctantly must accept master plans for houses, zoning and school districts. Or vast parks which would safeguard the scenery but invite nationwide attention.

They can organize committees and propose the regulations they want. But they are nonetheless regulations, and they will be written by planning departments and county counsels.

THEY CAN APPEAL for help to the Board of Supervisors and the State Highway Commission. But the boards and commissions call the hearings.

They can say where they want to build schools and how extensive school districts should be. But a county committee with a long and difficult name decides where the schools shall be and who goes to them.

Planning of some sort is the only way of putting the brakes on development if there must be development. But the conquest will come sooner or later.

THE IRREPRESSIBLE Adolph Oko of Point Reyes Station abhors the words "master plan," saying they lead all too easily to such cockeyed notions as master race and other schemes from wonderland.

But master plans, like a last resort, offer the only, if rather sad, consolation. And sometimes they lead directly to more trouble, especially if they were wrong-headed and ignorantly conceived in the first place.

Senate Should Investigate Not Only Estes But Whole Farm System

WASHINGTON—The powerful and penetrating X-ray the McClellan committee is applying to the Billie Sol Estes affair—and to those in government who made it possible—points up the invaluable role of congressional investigation.

There is nothing quite like it. In the hands of a competent chairman, like Sen. McClellan—plus a competent investigative staff— a Senate committee is untouchable and unbeatable as an instrument of inquiry.

Already the Senate committee has turned up two Department of Agriculture employees who took $1,640 from Billie Sol for favors rendered and whose guilt slipped through the net of F.B.I. questioning.

SECRETARY Orville Freeman, whose personal honesty, in my judgment, is not in doubt, has certainly been something less than a ball of fire in finding out what was going wrong within his own department. From the first exposure of the Estes manipulations, Freeman has shown more zeal in trying to put out the fires of public shock than in getting out the facts.

The secretary constantly berated the press for "ballooning" the scandal and quit that line only when it would not go down any longer.

He then decided that one of the best ways to prepare himself for the Senate investigation was to investigate the correspondence with the Department of Agriculture of the two Republican members of the investigating committee; that is, try to get something on the investigators.

HE TESTIFIED one day before the McCellan committee that he felt sure he had discovered and cleaned out all of the Estes collaborators in the department, and the next day the committee, through its investigative staff, turned up two more.

The total of government officials, including an assistant secretary of agriculture and an assistant secretary of labor, who have accepted gifts from Estes now numbers 13. The word on the Hill is that "end of list" is not in sight.

Freeman keeps stressing the fact that so far the government has not lost "a red cent" through the Estes manipulations. That's nice. But why not a little awareness of the fact that private citizens are in jeopardy of being swindled out of millions of dollars as a result of the way Estes was allowed to do business with the government?

THE McCLELLAN committee can well investigate whether the complex of laws, rules, and regulations of a partly government-managed agricultural economy is being — or can be — efficiently operated.

Dr. Henry B. Arthur, professor of agriculture and business at the Harvard Business School, put the question this way recently: "Are the temptations to exploit the system so numerous and is the bureaucratic underbrush so dense as to undermine effective enforcement?"

The objective judgment of the assistant counsel of the McClellan committee is that the system within the Agriculture Department "encourages dishonesty." This means that Congress needs to investigate the system as well as those who operate it.

Bridge players still talk occasionally about this hand, played in 1947. It was the last hand of the 1947 National Team Championship, and a spectacular boner by declarer at a grand slam contract sent the trophies in the other direction.

QUICKLY TOLD

The story is quickly told. South (I wouldn't dream of naming names) won the first trick with the king of clubs and next led out the ace of hearts.

That's all. It was enough.

South could no longer pick up East's queen of hearts, and he was down one at the grand slam.

He still needed a spade or diamond finesse, of course, for this was not the safest grand slam ever bid, but the fact remains that he could have made his contract if he had played the trumps correctly.

UNSAFE PLAY

South led out the ace of hearts at the second trick as a safety play, to guard against a singleton queen. It was actually an unsafe play, since it put South on the wrong end of a 4-to-1 shot.

If West has a singleton heart it may be any of the five missing trumps. All are equally likely. There are four chances for the singleton to be a low trump and only one chance for the singleton to be the queen.

Leading out the ace of hearts is useful only if West has the singleton queen.

For the four other possible singletons, South must lead the first trump from dummy, taking two finesses through East.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

RESOLUTION No. 946
RESOLUTION PROVIDING FOR NOTICE OF HEARING UPON PROPOSED ANNEXATION

WHEREAS, the City Council of the City of Larkspur, a municipal corporation, has received the 6th day of June, 1962, a written petition filed by Niels Schultz, Niels Schultz, Jr., Alvin K. Schultz, Greenbrae Marina Co., a limited partnership, and Tamalpais Union High School District, pursuant to the Annexation of Uninhabited Territory Act of 1939 (Sections 35300 to 35326 inclusive of the Government Code of the State of California) in which petition it is proposed that there be annexed to the City of Larkspur, a municipal corporation, certain uninhabited territory described in said petition which is contiguous to the City of Larkspur, a municipal corporation; and

WHEREAS said matter was thereupon referred to the County Boundary Commission and was by it approved; and

WHEREAS, the said petitioners allege in their petition that they are the owners of all of the land in the territory described in said petition by area and by assessed value as shown on the last equalized assessment roll of the County of Marin, State of California, being the County in which the territory described in said petition is situated;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IS RESOLVED AND ORDERED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF LARKSPUR AS FOLLOWS:

1. That it has been proposed pursuant to the Annexation of Uninhabited Territory Act of 1939 (Sections 35300 to 35326 inclusive of the Government Code of the State of California), that there be annexed to the City of Larkspur, a municipal corporation in the State of California, that certain territory particularly described as follows, to-wit:

All that real property situated in the County of Marin, State of California, more particularly described as follows:

"NOTICE OF MARIN HOSPITAL DISTRICT ELECTION"

"NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN to the qualified electors of MARIN HOSPITAL DISTRICT that in accordance with the provisions of the Local Hospital District Law and the Elections Code of the State of California, an election will be held on Tuesday, the 6th day of November, 1962, for the purpose of electing three(3) members at large of the Board of Directors of the MARIN HOSPITAL DISTRICT.

"Nominations for the foregoing offices may be filed with the undersigned Secretary of said District on forms to be supplied by the District at its offices in Marin General Hospital, 250 Bon Air Road, Greenbrae, San Rafael, California, not later than sixty-five (65) days prior to the aforesaid election.

"If on the sixty-fifth day prior to the day fixed for said Hospital District Election as aforesaid, only one person has been nominated for each office of member of the Board of Directors to be filled at that election, or if no one then has been nominated for such office, and if a petition signed by five percent (5%) of the qualified electors in the District, requesting that said Hospital District General Election be held in the District, has not been presented to the Board of Directors of said District, said Board of Directors shall by resolution entered in their minutes, order that an election shall not be held, and will immediately request the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, at a regular or special meeting held prior to the day fixed for the election, to appoint the person or persons, if any, who have been nominated; and if no person has been nominated for any of the offices to be filled, the Board of Supervisors shall appoint any qualified person to the office prior to the date when the election would have been held.

"Said election, unless dispensed with as aforesaid, shall be consolidated with the State General Election to be held on November 6, 1962. The precincts, polling places, election officers, hours during which the polls shall be open, and the manner of voting and the form of ballot to be used shall all be determined by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin in connection with said State General Election.

"Dated this 26th day of June, 1962.

"BY ORDER OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE MARIN HOSPITAL DISTRICT.

Teen-Age Dance Set Tonight At Terra Linda High

The San Rafael Recreation Department has scheduled a dance for teen-agers in the 10th through 12th grades tonight from 8 to 11 o'clock at Terra Linda High School cafeteria.

Recreation Director Joseph D. Rodota said boys should wear slacks or denims and girls skirts and blouses. No Capri pants. Bermudashorts or "short shorts" will be permitted, he said.

Parents who are willing to chaperone the event are asked to call the city recreation department.

All parents are asked to call for their children after the dance.

Larkspur School Meeting Called For Monday

Trustees of Larkspur School District have been called to a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday to discuss procedure for obtaining a successor to resigned Supt. Vaughn D. Seidel.

The meeting was called by Board Chairman Pauline Secor.

Doctor Seidel Wednesday asked release as soon as possible from his contract running to next June 30 at an annual salary of $12,500.

The meeting, in Seidel's office in Larkspur-Corte Madera School, will be an executive session, closed to the public.

European Folk Dance Festival Set Sunday

Folk dance enthusiasts from the entire Bay Area and points as distant as Los Angeles and Eureka are expected to participate Sunday in the 17th annual European Folk Dance Festival, to be held at College of Marin football field and San Rafael High School gymnasium.

Dancers of all ages, clad in authentic costume, will perform exhibition dances at the college field in the afternoon and at the high school in the evening. The public is invited to attend without charge.

'McInnis Speaking' On New York Trip

"McInnis Speaking" on Radio KTIM Sunday at 12:15 p.m., will feature a report on this week's 27th annual convention of the National Assn. of County Officials in New York City.

San Rafael's Mayor John McInnis was the keynote speaker, and will describe his reception as he talked at the Statler-Hilton Hotel on "Concepts of City-County Co-operation." He says he feels the reaction was better than he had expected, in view of the long-time resistance of county officials to this type of co-operation.

McInnis's speech was based upon his experience here as a member of the Assn. of Bay Area Governments.

Air Cadet Training

Cadet Charles C. Putney Jr., a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Putney of Mill Valley, is at Fairchild Air Force Base, Washington, where he is participating in an Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps summer encampment.

Exciting Story Of Animal Hunters Due

By LES DARD

Here is a look at the fine collection of movies showing on Marin screens this weekend:

MOTOR MOVIES AND TAMALPAIS

"Hatari," opening on both screens Sunday, is a happy blend of adventure and comedy, starring John Wayne, Red Buttons, Bruce Cabot and Elsa Martinelli.

"Hatari" is the Swahili word for danger. The film takes us into the exciting day to day life of the men who hunt animals for zoos. Most of it was filmed in Tanganyika.

The picture takes us on one exciting hunt after another, strung together by a very thin but amusing plot.

One of the most amusing sequences has Red Buttons, a cab-driver from Brooklyn, designing a monkey trap. He builds a rocket, attaches it to a huge net, then fires it over a tree alive with monkeys. It really works.

An excellent film all ages will enjoy.

RAFAEL THEATER

Another delight for the whole family arrives Sunday with "Bon Voyage," starring Fred MacMurray and Jane Wyman.

Walt Disney and his boys have done it again in this picture, sure to be a big success. It's over two hours of good clean fun based on the adventure of a Midwestern family on their first trip abroad. The party includes Mom and Pop, Jane and Fred, a teen-age son and daughter and a younger son.

Fred MacMurray — making his third Disney comedy in a row — flounders and sputters through crisis after crisis.

Pure delight.

FAIRFAX THEATER

Arthur Miller's explosive play, "A View from the Bridge" comes to the screen with tremendous impact. The picture opens tonight. It clings faithfully to the play in a production of outstanding force and realism.

Most action takes place in a tiny Brooklyn flat where an earnest, plodding stevedore (Raf Vallone) lives with his wife (Maureen Stapleton) and the niece (Carol Lawrence), now 18, they have rasied since childhood. Having loved the girl as a daughter, the stevedore now feels an unreasoning love for her as a woman.

Crisis comes when two of his wife's cousins, fleeing famine in Sicily, enter the U. S. illegally and come to live in the cold water flat. When the younger cousin (Jean Corel) falls in love with the niece and she returns his attentions, the stevedore becomes savage with jealousy and in his madness betrays his countrymen, his family and himself.

Highly recommended.

SEQUOIA THEATER

"The Counterfeit Traitor," opening Sunday, is an absorbing spy drama. It recounts the true story of Eric Erickson, a Swedish oil importer who spied on the Germans for Allied intelligence during World War II.

William Holden plays the role. Erickson was American-born and naturalized in Sweden. He was coerced into spying, but after serving and seeing became a dedicated Nazi-righter.

Lilli Palmer plays a fellow agent with whom Holden falls in love.

NOVATO THEATER

A modern fairy tale makes wonderful family fare in "Follow That Dream," coming Sunday.

Elvis Presley is the big attraction in this good clean comedy for all ages. He's starred as the son of a shiftless Southern family which has lived off the government for years. Why not, says daddy Arthur O'Connell, "The government's loaded."

But suddenly all this changes when the family goes on a Florida vacation. Their car breaks down and they spend the night on an isolated beach. In the morning, they find the place agreeable and O'Connell decides to homestead. To the state's consternation, they find he's within his rights.

LARK THEATER

Now showing is the controversial "Last Year in Marienbad," which represents a new approach to the cinematic art. There is no convenitional story line, no awareness of time. The result is more mental experience than a drama, a photographic excursion into the minds of the film's principals.

The pictture is Fernch, directed by Alain Resnais from an original scrip by Allain-Robbe-Grillet, who also wrote dialogue.

It's a puzzle. You'll have to see and decide for yourself.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

Two excellent films are playing a return through tomorrow night, "Pajama Game" and "Two Loves."

"Pajama Game" stars Doris Day and John Raitt in a delightful musical comedy.

"Two Loves" stars Shirley MacLaine and Laurence Harvey in a story about a spinster schoolteacher. Its unusual setting in New Zealand and an excellent supporting cast (including Jack Hawkins) makes this film well worth the watching.

Son Of Rizniks Takes Museum Post

Barnes Riznik, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Q. Riznik of 360 Redwood Road in San Anselmo, has resigned from the faculty of Stanislaus State College in Turlock to accept a position at the Old Sturbridge Museum near Southbridge, Mass.

The assistant professor of history will leave for the East in August. He will take a position as research assistant, which will enable him to continue his study of the early history of New England.

Saucelito Canal Hearing Set Monday

The State Small Craft Harbors Commission will hear a progress report on the Saucelito Canal at a meeting Monday at 10 a.m. in Room 1194 of the State Building in San Francisco.

The matter is the fifth item on the agenda.
